

Pound Berlin With Biggest Fleet Of RAF Heavy Bombers

London, Nov. 19 (AP)—The greatest armada of RAF heavy bombers ever dispatched to Germany blasted Berlin and Ludwigshafen last night, and today U. S. Flying Fortresses with fighter support attacked western Germany.

The fortress targets were not specified in the first announcement. At least 700 heavy bombers and perhaps a full thousand took part in the night RAF attacks.

Two and four-ton blockbusters were among the explosives hurled on Berlin and Ludwigshafen.

Incendiary bombs and high explosives dumped on the German capital started large fires whose reflection lit up the skies, although cloud formations prevented immediate observation of the results of the first heavy raid there since Sept. 3.

The exact number of bombers participating in the tremendous dual blow was not made known, but between 700 and 800 heavy bombers participated in some of the raids that leveled Hamburg and the air ministry announcement said last night's total topped all previous assaults.

The announcement indicated that the main strength of the night formations struck Berlin with "a great weight of high explosives and incendiary bombs."

Clearer weather prevailed over Ludwigshafen—home of the world's largest chemical works—and the second straight night assault on that industrial city resulted in very large explosions.

The twin mission cost the RAF 32 bombers.

On the basis of last night's attacks, two successive American daylight assaults on vital targets in Norway, and the RAF smash Wednesday night at Ludwigshafen, some London quarters promptly suggested that the Allies may be opening the greatest bombing offensive ever attempted against Europe.

U. S. Liberators, in an arduous 1,200-mile round trip yesterday, spread destruction through the Germans' biggest Norwegian airplane repair and maintenance depot at Kjeller, 11 miles outside Oslo. The operation followed by only 24 hours another American heavy bomber flight to Norway to blast the Nazi's biggest electrolysis plant at Rjukan and Kvernberget, Germany's prime source of steel-hardening molybdenum.

DISCUSS RURAL CHURCH AFFAIRS

The work to be performed by the town and country church during the war and in the post-war period was discussed Thursday afternoon at the Rural Life conference sponsored by the state council of churches at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary.

The session here Thursday was one of three sponsored by the state group with the opening sessions held Wednesday at Susquehanna university at Selinsgrove and closing today at Franklin and Marshall seminary, Lancaster. Most of the 100 ministers and students attending Thursday's sessions here also are attending the Lancaster meeting.

The Rev. Dr. Jacob M. Myers of the local seminary faculty presided at the sessions here Thursday afternoon. The Rev. C. E. Krumholz, New York city, social welfare secretary of the National Lutheran church council; Prof. William V. Dennis, State College; the Rev. Dr. William L. Mudge, Harrisburg, executive secretary of the state council of churches; the Rev. Lester Barton, Baptist minister from Colgan Station, Pennsylvania; the Rev. Lee Cable, field secretary of the state council of Religious Education; Dr. Bertha Paulsen of the local seminary faculty and the Rev. Edward K. Ziegler, head of the Rural Church work committee and pastor of the York Church of the Brethren, were among the speakers at Thursday's sessions. The Rev. Henry W. Sternat, Biglerville, presided at the morning sessions.

The afternoon session was divided into two seminars, with the ministers and students meeting separately.

Special Services Will Be Continued

Evangelistic services being conducted at the Church of the Brethren will continue through next week. The Rev. S. Clyde Weaver, East Petersburg, is in charge.

The subject for this evening is "The Justification of the Sinner"; Saturday, "The Great Invitation of Christ"; Sunday morning, "The Wise Choice," and Sunday evening, "Home and Mother."

Special music is furnished each evening by out-of-town groups. The public is invited to attend.

RATION BOARDS REDUCE USE OF GASOLINE HERE

Reports received at the Harrisburg district office of the OPA reveal that 14 local war price and rationing boards in the 10-county area including Adams county have slashed gasoline coupons for approximately 5,725,620 miles of driving from over-issued rations in the current gasoline saving campaign. The tailored coupons represent 381,708 gallons.

The saving in the section of the county covered by the Gettysburg rationing board has been much less than for the district as a whole, a local board spokesman said today, with most of the coupons issued by the board in the ordinary procedure representing "bed-rock" grants to the users.

A number of the applications have been reviewed by the local board in an attempt to slash away any over-abundance of gasoline stamps, it was stated, but so far only a few users were found to be obtaining more than they needed. Even in the cases where an additional amount had been given, principally to non-highway users, it was found that the amount cut was small and represented changes in the set-up for the consumer since the issuance of the original stamps.

Contribute to War Effort

The general review of gasoline rations by boards is now in its fifth week, the district OPA office disclosed, and it is expected that with the heavy load of work involved in the issuance of "A" books and War Book Four practically out of the way, the boards will continue the gasoline drive more fully.

"This tremendous reduction in gasoline rations does not reflect any criticism upon boards as, in most cases, the over-issuance was made in accordance with regulations," an OPA spokesman said. "It would never have been discovered, however, had it not been for the intensive reviewing of applications and the determination on the part of board members to recover over-issuance."

The contribution to the war effort represented in the saving of the 381,708 gallons of gasoline in this district may be realized when it is remembered that it takes 400 gallons of 100 octane gasoline to keep a 4-motored Flying Fortress in the air for one hour. The saving in this district alone will make possible at least several additional mass bombing missions over the continent.

The records show that 65 per cent of the over-issuance of gasoline rations in the district was found in "B" and "C" coupons and the remainder in non-highway rations.

Garage Fire At McSherrystown

Loss from the fire which early Tuesday morning damaged the M. D. Crouse garage at the east end of Main street, McSherrystown, was estimated Thursday by Mr. Crouse at between $3,000 and $4,000. It was partly covered by insurance.

The fire is believed to have been started by a short circuit in wiring to a radio in the supply room of the garage. The blaze was discovered at about 4:30 a. m. by Raymond Wilt, a driver for the Conewago Dairy. He notified Chief of Police Melvin Noel, McSherrystown, who sounded the fire alarm. Members of the McSherrystown fire company responded.

BENNER QUILTS ASSISTANCE BD.

Banks E. Benner, Fairfield R. D., fruit grower, who was elected chairman of the Adams County Assistance Board two months ago, has resigned as a member of the board, it was learned today. Mr. Benner could not be reached by phone for a statement. An assistance board spokesman in announcing the resignation said Mr. Benner had given no reason for his action.

Mrs. William Arch McClean, vice chairman, presided at the November meeting of the board held Thursday at the assistance office on North Washington street.

A report on the case load by the director, Mrs. Verna Myers, showed the number of cases to be 48 less than last year at the same time, with 27 less cases in old age assistance, six less for blind pension, three for aid to dependent children, and 12 for general assistance. There are 672 cases on the rolls at the present time, divided between 445 old age assistance; 72 pensions to the blind, 92 aid to dependent children and 61 general assistance.

Attending Thursday's session were Mrs. McClean, Mrs. Maude S. Saby, J. H. Weaver, M. Stuart Danner and Harold H. Reuning. The next meeting will be held December 9 at the assistance office.

LT. LINN SELLS INSURANCE TO MEN OVERSEAS

Much of North Africa is a desolate and barren wasteland—hardly the best place in the world for an insurance salesman to do business. But First Lt. John S. Linn son of Mrs. Hettie Linn, Cashtown, sold hundreds of policies between Suez and Tripoli.

He traveled by plane and by jeep, signing airmen and ground crews on the dotted line for government insurance. Many of them had neglected to do so in the rush of leaving the United States for combat.

"I was an insurance officer," Linn related.

"Before I left North Africa for home, we had signed up over 85 per cent of our men, all of them for $5,000 or more."

Buy War Bonds

"The men also bought a lot of war bonds," Linn said. "In one month alone, I helped sell bonds that amounted to $120,000."

Lieutenant Linn, 24, is now temporarily stationed at AAF Redistribution Station No. 1 in Atlantic City, where he will be given a new assignment. He went overseas in April, 1942, as an enlisted man, landing on the Gold Coast. He was a cryptographer in the Ferry Command, which has now become the Air Transport Command.

From the Gold Coast, he went to the Belgian Congo as a technical sergeant.

"We were building airfields there," he said. "Rommel was deep into Egypt, then we were rushing completion of an emergency air supply route."

"Just when we were about finished, the Germans were chased out of Egypt, then finally out of Africa altogether."

"We had mixed feelings after the battle of El Alamein, when Rommel was beaten. We liked knowing the Nazis had been licked. But it meant all our work had been unnecessary."

After four months in the Congo, Linn was transferred to Cairo, given a direct commission, and made an insurance officer.

Gifts of $10 each were received from an anonymous doctor and the Gettysburg Lions club.

Jap-Held Islands Blasted For 5th Consecutive Day

Here And There
News Collected At Random

Eighty years ago this afternoon—Abraham Lincoln, the greatest President this great nation has ever had, dedicated the Gettysburg National Cemetery with a 267-word address that is now one of the masterpieces of literature.

Edward Everett was the orator for the occasion and he spoke for two hours. There isn't one in a thousand today who can tell you what he said.

Lincoln spoke a few minutes and said that . . . "the world will little note nor long remember what we say here" . . . but nearly every school kid today above the seventh grade can recite Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. It has also been translated into nearly every language on the face of the globe.

The world's greatest statesmen through many years have quoted those plain and simple words the gaunt rail-splitter delivered from a rough-hewn platform on a blood-stained battlefield 139 days after the last shot was fired in the three-days' Battle of Gettysburg.

The speech has been carved in stone and marble; engraved on parchment in silver and gold; pressed in bas-relief on copper and bronze; printed on rag paper and plain bond. Copies hang in huts, mansions and palaces. School children in Illinois are raising $60,000 in pennies to purchase the "original" manuscript. A piece of leather with the Address burned on with an electric needle recently sold for $3,000. A Lincoln memorial, with the speech carved in one of the marble walls, stands at one end of the Mall in the nation's capital. And there are other Lincoln shrines all over the world.

But the shrine of all Lincoln shrines is the Gettysburg National Cemetery, a 17-acre plot of sacred ground surrounded by a stone and iron fence on the Gettysburg Battlefield. In spring color, summer grandeur or winter dress it is impressively beautiful.

Millions have paid tribute to the memory of the martyred President before the Soldiers' National Monument which marks the spot where Lincoln stood when he spoke those deathless words . . . government of the people, by the people, for the people, 80 years ago this afternoon.

Of all the anniversaries and commemorative events November 19 should rank foremost in the hearts and minds of all Gettysburgians. Today should be a national holiday . . . today should be Lincoln-Gettysburg day.

Out of respect to the memory of Abraham Lincoln and in commemoration of the 80th anniversary of his Gettysburg Address we reverently bow in humble homage and tribute.

Pressure upon Japan increased by air, sea and land today. The Gilbert and Marshall islands were bombed for the fifth consecutive day in a pre-invasion pattern. Buka, at the northern tip of invaded Bougainville, was bombed by sea. Marines and infantry counted 812 dead Japanese as they pushed bloodily inland from Empress Augusta bay, losing 107 dead.

Australians on New Guinea lunged out from Finschhafen, threatening Rabaul on New Britain from the south as the invaders of Bougainville imperiled the key base from the east.

Allied armies in central Italy still were checked by ram-paging rivers, but bombers took apart the Grosseto and Terni rail centers north of Rome. Others spanned the Adriatic to attack Athens and Larissa airdromes in Greece and sink a merchant vessel and damage two others in Yugoslavia. Only patrols and cannon were active on the front 75 to 105 miles short of Rome.

Fresh Peace Demonstrations

Fresh peace demonstrations were reported in the Balkans, particularly in Bulgaria. Berlin said Sofia would be evacuated following the American bombing. Hungarian troops stood again at the Rumanian border as the old-boundary quarrel between Hitler's puppets flared. The Turkish ambassador to Berlin returned to Ankara to consult as that guardian nation of the Dardanelles moved cautiously closer to the Allied camp. Marshal Petain was reported ready to resign unless he could summon a "democratic" parliament in France.

Pressure of the Allies in Italy and Yugoslav partisans in the Balkans was reported to have forced Hitler to dispose 50 divisions in those regions, ten against the American-British line in central Italy.

Gomel Fate Sealed

The capture of Rechitsa virtually sealed the fate of the White Russian rail center of Gomel, 25 miles to the east. Russian troops surged on that beleaguered city from north, south and east. By capturing Korosten, 90 miles northwest of Kiev, the Russians secured their flank in the Ukraine to the Pripiet marshes, releasing thousands of troops to counter heavy and continuing German attacks on the Kiev bulge in the Zhitomir and Fastov area.

German attempts to widen their lone gains of the whole fall campaign near Zhitomir broke down, Moscow said, in a welter of Nazi blood and wrecked tanks. At both Korosten and Rechitsa, the Russians said they captured enormous booty including trainloads of materiel. Korosten is 60 miles from the old Polish frontier. It lies on the mangled Odessa-Leningrad railway and another from Kiev to Warsaw.

The Russians also reported advances in the Dniester bend area southwest of Dnepropetrovsk and within 22 miles of Nikolov. Burma Bombed Chinese troops fighting on the Salween near Burma were supported by bombing attacks by the 14th U. S. Air Force, which also ranged into Burma. The Japanese said other Allied bombers approached Java and Bali in the Dutch East Indies. A U. S. troop transport was sunk off Bougainville Tuesday.

Pearl Harbor dispatches suggested that the persistent attacks on the Marshalls and Gilberts were "softening up" the west-central Pacific bases for sea and land fighting Admiral Nimitz has promised. Jaluit in the Marshalls and Tarawa in the Gilberts were the principal targets.

Both are the most important Japanese holdings in the low, sandy atolls just north of the equator and they are well on the long, hard road to Tokyo.

Cashtown Firemen To Collect Salvage

Members of the Cashtown Community fire company will hold an all-day salvage collection Saturday, it was announced today by Daniel Mickle, chairman of the drive committee.

Collections will be made in Cashtown, McKnightstown, Seven Stars, Mummaburg, Orttanna and rural sections included in that area.

A request has been made for residents to have salvage materials prepared in the prescribed manner and it is especially requested that paper be tied in bundles.

RETURNS TO DUTY

NAZI ATTACKS PROVE ARMY IS NOT YET ROUTED

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

Over-confident folk must have received the shock they deserve when they saw the badly mauled Hitlerites suddenly flare back with a heavy counter-attack on the southern flank of the sharp Zhitomir salient and force the Muscovites to withdraw somewhat.

Such a display of strength and morale, coming on top of the Nazi recapture of Aegean islands and the difficulties encountered by the Allies in Italy, certainly is disturbing to wishful thinking. Still, I hope readers of this column hadn't misjudged the situation, because only last Tuesday I pointed out that the Germans were attacking to slow down the Red drive at Zhitomir, and added that "the ability of the Hitlerites to stage such counter-thrusts should dispel any notion that they are a crushed and routed army."

However, while this is a sharp reminder that the Germans still have much strength and are dangerous, it doesn't alter the fact that they are on the road to defeat. Such bursts of striking-power are purely defensive.

Nazis Not Yet Routed

The Zhitomir salient show shouldn't be surprising. The surprising thing would have been if it hadn't come, for that would have supported the idea that the Hitlerites were indeed in a state of collapse.

Of course, their battle-front is in a precarious position—as witness today's reports of smashing Red victories at Korosten and in the Gomel sector—and under such circumstances they might be thrown into a debacle. But they haven't been in such a disorganized state yet.

It's almost a truism that any great army, fighting on a broad front, can always make a dent in the enemy line by a quick and heavy concentration of troops at a given point. The Germans are said have employed 150,000 men on a narrow front below Zhitomir, and that's a lot of troops. The significant thing is that while the Red front bent, it held and surged back.

Attacks Aid Russia

The German attack on the flank of the Zhitomir salient was calculated to give them time to withdraw their own imperiled right wing to the south. That right flank bulges out towards the east in a great arc more than 600 miles long.

The Zhitomir salient is stretching out a long, wiry arm that threatens to turn this arc into a huge trap in which great numbers of Germans might be caught. Within this is the smaller Dnieper-Bend trap which the world has been watching tensely for several weeks.

Rather paradoxically, such German counter-attacks are really to the advantage of the Muscovites. Every fresh effort of this sort further weakens the Nazis, who no longer have the reserve manpower or the equipment to do more than stand off defeat for a while longer.

Grand Day For Reds

Well, so much by way of explaining the significance of Hitler's display of strength. The Russians still retain the initiative and are doing a masterful job of cutting to pieces that ever lengthening German front which hourly becomes more difficult to defend. Super-optimists and wishful thinkers can resume their placid contemplation of the show.

The fresh Red triumphs north of Zhitomir are of great importance—fully warranting the roars of triumph which last night burst from the throats of 124 victory guns in Moscow. The capture of the railway junction of Korosten, sixty miles from the old Polish border, has severed communication between the German armies in the Ukraine and those in White Russia to the north. The fall of Rechitsa to the north places the invaders in the Gorn sector, with its strategic railways, on a tough spot.

Yesterday was another grand day for Russian arms.

Nittany Cub Goes Home To Mother

State College, Pa., Nov. 19 (AP)—Penn State's 12-pound lion cub is back with its mother in a New York zoo today—the reason—homesickness and feeding troubles.

The six-week-old cub, given to the college Saturday by the sponsors of a radio program, was packed in a special cage and put aboard a train with its own attendant.

The fuzzy little mascot of the Nittany Lions of Penn State returned home before the students had a chance to name it. College veterinarians, who fed the cub with an eye-dropper, said its chances of survival would be much better with its mother. It will be returned to the Nittany mountain campus at the conclusion of the weaning period.

British Protest Mosley's Release

London, Nov. 19 (AP)—A nationwide storm of protest over the British government's decision to free Sir Oswald Mosley, pre-war Fascist-type leader, mounted today with fresh delegations of war workers protesting to Home Secretary Herbert Morrison.

Representatives of more than a million workers have objected to the planned release, for asserted medical reasons, of the man who organized the British Blackshirt party, and the government was faced with new disruptions of the home front's war effort, which already has been beset by the worst year of strikes since the war began.

CHIMNEY FIRE

The local fire company was called to a chimney fire on South Washington street, Thursday evening. The fire was extinguished before the company arrived.

Accident Victim Is Still Unconscious

The condition of Harold Little, 16, Hanover, who was injured in an auto accident Monday morning at York Springs was described as slightly improved at the Warner hospital today. He remains unconscious.

Miss Emma Keller, 17, Carlisle, injured in an accident near Biglerville Sunday morning, was reported as much improved.

Mrs. Lewis E. Krietz, Thurmont, has been admitted as a patient. Those discharged were Albert Boyd, Littlestown, and Mrs. Clarence Hall and infant son, Jerry Clarence, Littlestown.

Gets $34,535 For Letterkenny Land

Harrisburg, Nov. 19 (AP)—A jury in federal court today awarded $34,535 to Dr. J. H. Kinter, of Franklin county, as damages for seizure by the government of his 119-acre tract of land for the Letterkenny Army ordnance depot.

Both Dr. Kinter and the government appealed from an award of $23,000 by a board of viewers. During the five-day trial witnesses for Dr. Kinter placed values ranging up to $55,000 for the tract, while government witnesses appraised it at $18,000 to $20,000. Dr. Kinter testified he spent approximately $40,000 on the property.

Governor Pleads For War Relief

Harrisburg, Nov. 19 (AP)—Governor Martin today urged Pennsylvanians to meet the Commonwealth's goal of $10,882,000 for the state War Fund.

He declared in a statement that only $4,812,000 has been subscribed to date and added "joint campaigns all over the state are in a critical position which calls for renewed effort and a dogged determination to complete this essential war job completely and satisfactorily."

"It is unthinkable that the people of the great state of Pennsylvania will not meet their full share of this obligation which has been assigned to them," he asserted.

Partisans Battle Reinforced Nazis

London, Nov. 19 (AP)—Yugoslav partisans were battling heavily reinforced German and native forces in widely-scattered areas, scoring successes in Serbia and Herzegovina but falling back before steady enemy pressure in Dalmatia, a commune broadcast by the Yugoslav liberation army reported today.

Meanwhile German's hold on other parts of southern Europe was reported shaking under the impact of fresh peace demonstrations in several of her restive Balkan satellites.

From a flood of unconfirmed and sometimes conflicting rumors it appeared certain that at least some elements of the populations of Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary were seeking a way into the good graces of the Allies before Hitlerism is struck down.

OPA To Enforce Price Of Turkeys

Harrisburg, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Harrisburg district OPA office today ordered "a determined enforcement drive" on turkey ceiling prices for the pre-Thanksgiving holiday period.

The OPA said "a critical pre-holiday shortage of turkeys has created a difficult price situation," and the enforcement campaign was ordered by the New York regional office "to see that whatever turkeys are available are sold at ceiling prices."

Enforcement agents and price division men were assigned to observe turkey sales to wholesalers and instructed also to enforce ceiling prices rigidly on sales of heavy chickens in any districts that turkeys are unavailable. They were told to watch car and truck shipments at market receiving points and to take action where violations were detected.

Discover Potent New Anesthetic

Penns Grove, N. J., Nov. 19 (AP)—Dr. John C. Krantz, Jr., professor of pharmacology at the University of Maryland Medical school, reported Tuesday to the New Jersey section of the American Chemical society the discovery of a new anesthetic which he said was three to five times as potent as ether and much safer.

In more than 40 anesthetics conducted with the new discovery called Propethylene, Dr. Krantz stated, "there was evidenced these advantages over ether—ease of going under the anesthetic, low concentration of blood, rapidity of recovery and slight anesthetic discomfort."

30-DAY LIMIT

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration ruled today that beginning Nov. 24 dealers may not hold shoes for customers more than 30 days without payment of ration stamps.

ARMY REFUND TOUCHES OFF ECONOMY MOVE

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Army's disclosure that it has more money than it needs touched off today a series of developments and comments that gave an entirely new complexion to the nation's war production effort to date, and what's needed in the future.

Out of the announcement that the War department is turning back $13,000,000,000 to the Budget bureau, came these significant turns:

1—The Army was pictured as considering the mighty production effort at its expansion peak. Some drastic cutbacks, notably in small arms ammunition, already have been made because enough material is on hand or because battle experience has dictated shifts.

Demand Lower Taxes

2—The Army's manpower needs have been revised downward by more than a half million men and, so, opponents of the father draft in Congress promptly seized upon this as another argument for their point.

3—It was disclosed that preliminary steps already are under consideration for government and industry to work out tentative plans to reconvert war factories to peacetime production. Some officials said this would have been done before but there was a fear of giving the impression the war was won and thus engendering a letdown.

Announcement of the giant refund was made by Chairman Snyder (D-Pa.) of an appropriations subcommittee that handles Army finances. It immediately brought demands on Capitol Hill for lower taxes, closer scrutiny of Federal expenditures and a stop to the father draft.

To Talk With Hershey

While the Pennsylvania observed that the "welcome news to all of us who are disturbed over the mounting public debt . . . has no immediate bearing upon the need to raise additional revenue," Senator Downey (D-Calif.) declared that increased taxation might be partially avoided by the Army curtailment.

Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the House Military committee construed the Snyder disclosure as "additional evidence that there no longer is a need for drafting pre-war fathers."

May said he intended to call before his committee probably next week Major General Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, to detail plans for administering new father-deferment legislation passed yesterday by the House and slated for Senate action next Monday. The legislation puts pre-war fathers at the bottom of the draft list.

PETAIN CUTS PIERRE LAVAL

Bern, Nov. 19 (AP)—Marshal Henri Philippe Petain has drafted a new French constitution along democratic lines which the Nazis have prevented him from promulgating, and has renounced Pierre Laval as his successor in a decree also hushed up, it was disclosed today.

The 87-year-old chief of state's abrupt turn from German domination, which he had previously declared France honor-bound to follow because of the 1940 peace treaty, was revealed in the publication of a speech he was never permitted to deliver.

Petaim had named Nazi-collaborationist Laval as his successor on Nov. 17, 1942, and gave him power to make laws and issue decrees after German troops crossed the armistice demarcation line into Vichy French territory.

The refusal to broadcast Petaim's speech over the Vichy radio, and the failure of his decree to appear in the official gazette has created a crisis.

Th marshal, according to a reliable informant, in which this resignation to the cabinet.

War Workers Are Shown Army Secrets

Somewhere in England, Nov. 19 (AP)—Hugh Stanley, of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, one of three American war workers touring Britain, has seen some U. S. Army secrets never shown civilian visitors before.

The three men were taken on a tour yesterday and were told by a high ranking officer that "every American, at home and overseas, is a soldier now."

Following their inspection trip, the three Americans said, "if all the people at home could see what we have seen today they would realize how closely they are involved in every move our army makes."

Later, they ate at an Army mess and attended a British trade union meeting.

TO FREEZE PAYROLL TAX

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—Asserting that "we are not entitled to use Social Security taxes to finance any part of the war," Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) announced today he will seek to amend the new revenue bill to freeze payroll levies at the present one per cent on employees and employers.

Coast Guard Tells Of Liquor Thefts

Philadelphia, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Coast Guard reports that about 40 cases of imported liquor have been stolen from piers along the Delaware river in the last few weeks.

Testifying at a hearing yesterday for Thomas A. McMillan, 50, a stevedore charged with the theft of two bottles, Coast Guard members said that the disappearance of liquor from the piers had become so serious that extra guards had to be employed.

McMillan was held in $1,000 bail for the federal grand jury. He was the third stevedore in three days arrested here on a charge of stealing liquor.

Count Is Fined $420 In Nassau

Nassau, Bahamas, Nov. 19 (AP)—Alfred de Marigny, who won acquittal last week of a murder charge, today drew a £100 (about $420) fine—or a three-month prison sentence if he fails to pay it—for illegal possession of gasoline.

His close friend, Marquis Georges de Visdelou, was fined the same amount and paid immediately, but de Marigny filed notice of appeal.

Magistrate F. E. Field said the only reason he did not sentence the two men to prison is because he might thus have delayed their deportation.

The jury which freed de Marigny of the charge that he murdered Sir Harry Oakes, his wealthy father-in-law, recommended that he be deported immediately.

OPA Finds Bogus Gas Stamp Source

Allentown, Pa., Nov. 19 (AP)—Office of Price Administration agents have announced that they have uncovered the source of between 60,000 and 75,000 gasoline stamps which they said have been used illegally in the Northampton county, Pa., and Warren county, N. J., areas.

The OPA said the stamps had been turned over to a bank by gasoline dealers and said a bank employee, entrusted with their destruction, instead sold the stamps to a distributor who in turn resold them. The OPA said a warrant for the arrest of the bank employee will be sworn out today.

NO EXTRA BUTTER

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—The amount of butter available for civilian use will not increase in the next few months, even though the government has discontinued its purchases until April, and prospects for greater production are slim, the Office of War Information said today.

CHANGE SPEAKERS

Chester N. Ballard, of Orrtanna, formerly of Washington, D. C., will be the speaker Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Mt. Carmel United Brethren church at a service concluding a series which opened last Sunday: Mr. Ballard will use John 3:16 as his text. The Rev. H. O. Sipe, the pastor, previously had been announced as the Sunday evening speaker.

BRING HOME BEAR

Kenneth Guise and John Buckley, Biglerville, brought home a 250-pound bear Monday secured during a hunting trip in the mountains near Reno.

Walker Says Milk Price Rise Won't Increase Production

Harrisburg, Nov. 19 (AP)—Supporting the federal government's view, James E. Walker, chairman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's State War Board, said today higher milk prices will not stop a downward trend in production.

"Our cows were fed stronger in 1942 than we ever fed them before in our efforts to get all-out production," Walker said in an interview. "It is my belief that they are just taking a rest and higher prices won't offer any relief to the milk situation."

The state Milk Control Commission recently ordered retail prices in the state advanced two and three cents a quart and producer prices increased more than 90 cents a hundredweight but suspended the new schedule when federal agencies withheld approval. A federal subsidy plan for producers was put into effect instead.

Governor Martin, a week ago, reopened the controversy by asking Fred M. Vinson, director of the Office of Economic Stabilization, for a hearing. Vinson acknowledged receipt of the Governor's telegram yesterday but has yet to act on the request.

Grant $150,000 To Actress' Son

New London, Conn., Nov. 19 (AP)—Litigation over a $650,000 trust fund left by Commodore Morton Plant to his playboy stepson, the late Philip Plant, has ended in an out-of-court settlement in which 14-year-old Petr Bennett Plant receives $150,000 less $27,000 counsel fees.

But the question of the boy's parentage, which highlighted the litigation, remained unanswered and the answer may not be known until the settlement, approved by Superior Court Judge James E. Murphy, is applied to the Probate court decree from which the recent action was an appeal.

That decree, by Probate Judge Arthur P. Anderson of Groton, held last year that young Peter was adopted by Screen Star Constance Bennett; that he was not, as Miss Bennett asserted, her son and Philip's; that Philip had therefore died without issue; and that Peter therefore was not entitled to any of the trust fund.

The Sangro river on the Adriatic flank, managed to gain some high ground north of the village of Archi northwest of Ateessa despite stout resistance. The gain permitted better observation of the enemy's strong defense lines across the river.

Major movements were curtailed except along paved highways, however, and temporary bridges flung by engineers across swollen streams. The Trigno had risen seven feet above its normal level at this time of the year.

8 Fires on Airfield

Eight fires blazed on Larissa airfield, another center of German air concentration, after the Mitchell raid, and heavy loads of explosives fell among parked planes, runways and hangars.

Taking advantage of the lull on the Italian front, fighters and fighter-bombers roared across the Adriatic in full strength to support the Yugoslav partisans with strafing runs along the roads and railways.

Spitfires shot up 16 trucks and set fire to two gasoline carriers on the road from Durazzo, Albania.

Heiges Sets Farm Sales Record Here

C. A. Heiges, local real estate agent for the E. A. Strout Agency, incorporated, has been advised by his company that among 750 of the company's agents throughout the nation he is leading in number of farms sold during the first 10 months of this year. That record is exclusive of California.

During the last two years, Mr. Heiges said today, he has made at least two sales each month with the number ranging up to nine in some months.

The company advertises in newspapers and magazines throughout the nation and issues national and local catalogs of properties listed with them for sale.

Popularity of Adams county farms is such, Mr. Heiges said, that the volume of sales this year could have been tripled if there had been enough moderately priced, medium sized farms listed for sale with stock and machinery.

American's Day Starts With Breakfast

American crystal never asks the time of day. You can set it out for breakfast, again for lunch, dinner, and all other times when food or drink is in order. It sparkles and glimmers any setting and is sturdily made to endure hard usage. Another virtue is its amazing low price. Still another, it is open stock. You can always match and add. So can one for whom you buy American as a gift.

By ORLO ROBERTSON
New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—With the hopes that Lady Luck continues to enjoy our company for the last big Saturday of the 1943 football season we give you:

Ohio State-Michigan—The Buckeyes are not in the class of the Wolverines this season so it's Michigan in a romp.

North Carolina-Duke—Duke in a close shave.

Purdue-Indiana—The old oaken bucket and at least a share in the Big Ten title goes to unbeaten Purdue.

Louisiana State-Tulane—Tulane hasn't got what it takes to stop Steve Van Buren. LSU.

Missouri-Kansas—The Tigers are not going to let a weak Jayhawk outfit ruin their slim chance of repeating as Big Six king. Missouri.

Gophers Chosen
Wisconsin-Minnesota—The Gophers in a battle of Western Conference also runs.

Colorado College—Colorado—Colorado college over the university for the second time this season.

Dartmouth-Princeton—No contest although the Tigers promise to show up. Dartmouth.

Brown-Army—If Doc Savage is right look for a free-scoring battle with the Cadets on the long end.

Clemson-Georgia Tech—Eddie Prokop and the Engineers by themselves. Georgia Tech.

Harvard-Boston College—A couple of "Informals" with Doherty of BC the difference. Boston College.

Great Lakes Favored
Marquette-Great Lakes—A good workout for the sailors before meeting Notre Dame next week. Great Lakes.

14-Game Cage Card For Penn Dribblers

Philadelphia, Nov. 19 (AP)—The University of Pennsylvania will play a 14-game basketball schedule this season and for the first time since 1905 will hold its home games on a court off the campus.

With the Palestra being used as a dining hall by the Army and Navy and Weightman hall too small to accommodate the usual Palestra crowd, the Quakers will play their seven home games in Convention hall.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—Drum Beater Harry Markson is beginning to wonder if the 135-pound boxing division was not misnamed "lightweight" when it should have been "welterweight."

... because, he says, "the lightweight title always is in a welter of confusion."

That leads right up to the fact that Bobcat Bob Montgomery and Beau Jack will fight for the New York-Pennsylvania version of the title tonight and ten days later Sammy Angott, who regained the N.B.A. championship by whipping Sluggo White, will appear merely as a "leading contender" when he fights Bobby Ruffin in the same ring.

The lightweight and batamweight titles are the only ones that haven't been "frozen" for the duration, which explains the concentration of chaos.

After seeing the Army-Notre Dame and Dartmouth-Cornell games while he was on furlough, Pfc. Charlie Callahan sends word from Peterson Field, Colorado, that he figures Colorado college can be ranked with any team in the country except the Irish.

Hillsboro, Ohio, hitherto noted only for turning out Joe Hiestand, the trapshooter, and this columnist's old man, had three representatives on an Army baseball team which piled up a year-long string of 27 victories, starting on Fiji and ending on Guadalcanal with a single loss to a Marine outfit. The C.O. of the unit, Col. DeForest R. Roush, First Sgt. Howard Duckwald, shotstop, and Cpl. Kenneth Johnson, outfielder, all hail from Hillsboro.

Leland "Bunky" Morris, the 142-pounder who played a lot of good football at Syracuse U., has been discharged from the Army because of a "busted knee" he received playing touch football at camp.

HOLD UP PURSE AFTER BOUT THURSDAY NIGHT

Pittsburgh, Nov. 19 (AP)—Sammy Daniels of Baltimore and Bee-Bee Wright of Clairton were ordered to appear Monday before Boxing Commissioner Matty Bain after their scheduled 10-round fight here last night was halted in the sixth round by Referee Freddie Mastrean.

Mastrean ordered the purses of both the negro boxes held up. He said he had warned the men four times to do some fighting and that his order had been ignored.

Wright was seeking his 13th consecutive victory since turning professional. He weighed 147, Daniels 141. About 1,600 saw the abbreviated match.

The two men met in Washington not long ago with Wright winning a split decision in what was described by ringsiders as a slam-bang battle with the winner in doubt.

BEARS FAVORED OVER 'SKINS IN SUNDAY CLASH

By PAT O'BRIEN
Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—There was a suspicion around this football-mad capital today that Sammy Baugh and the Washington Redskins may be slightly less than world beaters when they tangle with the Chicago Bears Sunday.

Washington bookmakers were laying odds of 5 to 3 on the Bears, and some of them were willing to spot a touchdown that Sid Luckman, Harry Clark, Clyde (Bulldog) Turner and their Chicago mates would wallop the world professional champions.

Every seat in Griffith stadium has been sold for two weeks for the game between pro football's outstanding opponents.

Starting back in 1937, when the Redskins beat the Bears to gain Washington's first championship, the series has developed into a bitter sports feud. The Bears have won two of three regularly scheduled games, but the Redskins have topped two out three decisions in national league title playoffs.

Last year, Washington trounced the heavily-favored Chicagoans, 14-6, for the championship, sharply reversing the 1941 debacle which the Bears won, 73-0.

The Bears beat Washington, 21-14, in a pre-season exhibition contest this year, they tied, and later defeated, Green Bay, walloped Detroit twice, and trounced the Chicago Cards, Phil-Pitt, Brooklyn and New York in regular league games.

Washington has defeated Brooklyn, Green Bay, the Cardinals, Brooklyn and Detroit and tied Phil-Pitt. The Bears' 56-7 record of New York last Sunday, when Luckman heaved seven touchdown passes and Clark gained 81 yards on the ground has established the Chicagoans as favorites for next Sunday's clash.

Luckman, bound for service in the Merchant Marine, is having his greatest season.

The game is a cinch to be a preview of the championship playoff next month. The Bears are tops in the league's western division and Washington appears unequalled in the east.

ATTEMPT MADE TO SUBSTITUTE FOR CHESTNUTS

By RALPH E. WALLIS
Harrisburg, Nov. 19 (AP)—For more than a quarter of a century, Pennsylvania wildlife and the state game commission have been searching for the same thing—a food substitute for the once-plentiful chestnut.

"We are trying to find something to take the place of the chestnut as a food for animals and birds but we haven't succeeded," Ross L. Leffler, commission head, explained today.

The chestnut—before it was practically wiped out in this state by the blight—served as a combination main course, salad and dessert for hungry deer, bears, squirrels, turkeys and ruffed grouse.

"Both animals and birds like its sweet and juicy kernel and the nut contained almost everything that was needed by wildlife," Commissioner Director Seth Gordon declared.

Since the decline of the chestnut, Gordon added, the commission has tried to encourage the growth of walnuts and hickory nuts; sponsored the planting of mountain plots of grain; planted grape vines and small shrubs and helped develop growth of acorns and beechnuts but has not succeeded in replacing the chestnut as a food.

"Deer ate some of the mountain grown grain before it was matured," he added. "Acorns are abundant one year and rare the next and only certain species are sweet enough for food."

Rutgers Near To Middle 3 Title

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 19 (AP)—Rutgers Coach Harry Rockafeller, who dampened the crying towel two months ago and now has led his tender-aged charges through three straight victories, has proved to be a better football coach than prognosticator.

The Scarlet mentor didn't look for the best when he learned his squad would be all civilians—most of them under 19 years of age—but Rutgers has virtually clinched the middle three championship for the first time in four years.

The 17- and 18-year-old freshmen, not greatly appreciated at first, have done a lot toward Rutgers' two victories over Lehigh and one over Lafayette. And they'll have a chance to do more when the Scarlet seeks to sew up the middle three title by defeating Lafayette in a return game at Easton, Pennsylvania, on Saturday.

Iron ore was discovered on the west slope of the Alleghenies in 1792.

PROS TO PLAY TITLE Game In Mid-West

Chicago, Nov. 19 (AP)—The playoff game for the national pro football championship will be played in the midwest, not on the Pacific coast as had been suggested.

Division leaders and teams with a mathematical chance for the title will meet Monday to arrange plans for the contest, scheduled for Dec. 19, and almost certain to be held in Chicago between the Bears and Washington Redskins, division leaders.

Commissioner Elmer Layden, however, invited representatives of the Green Bay Packers, Phil-Pitt Steagles and the New York Giants to the meeting.

SCHOOL TEAMS LOOK TO TILTS ON TURKEY DAY

By LEE Y. KEBACH
Philadelphia, Nov. 19 (AP)—Leaders of only two of Pennsylvania's scholastic football conferences, Lancaster and Ebersburg, will see action this week as the season heads towards a climax with nearly all of the championships decided.

Only a mere handful of games are on tap in the various loops since most schools are pointing to traditional Thanksgiving Day contests to terminate their campaigns, and practically none of them have a bearing on the leaders' ratings.

Only two tilts will be staged in the Big 15, York at Lancaster and Steelton at Lebanon on Saturday, and only the latter will involve a title contender.

Steelton has a record of six wins, five of them in conference play, and two stalemates, is in second place with 412 points and is the only team that can possibly overtake Allentown which leads with 485 points.

However, Steelton can gain little by defeating Lebanon which has yet to win.

Allentown, with a record of nine wins and one loss, that to Phillipsburg, New Jersey, in a non-loop fray, is one of the state's most formidable clubs. It must dispose only of Bethlehem on Turkey Day to clinch the title, and may even slip under the wire if it succumbs to its arch adversary.

Wilkes-Barre Meyers has almost captured the Wyoming Valley diadem, gaining 598 points resulting from eight victories, four of them conference decisions, and one deadlock. Meyers is highly favored to trounce Wilkes-Barre G. A. R. on Thanksgiving and thereby clinch the title for the second consecutive year.

The charitable 49th Street wagering wags, who often will give you the right time—if you lend them your watch—have installed Bobcat Bob at 1 to 3 on the slates to hang onto his crown in this 15-rounder against the challenge of the one-time Georgia shoe-shine boy from whom he took it last May. Yet, the Jacobs beachcombers—to a man—think the Philadelphia flailer is a shoo-in this time.

Of course, they're taking into consideration not only the fact that Bob practically beat the ears off the bouncing Beau the last time they tangled, but also that Beau came up with a trick knee in his most recent trip to the post. This was against Bobby Ruffin, a journeyman workman from Long Island, who was 9 to 1 that evening and came home on top.

The Beau's knee won't be doing its parlor tricks this time, according to recent communiques from his camp. From here, it is apparent that he had better be at his peak, because Montgomery is just as strong as the little Georgia jack-rabbit and probably has forgotten more about boxing skill than the jumping Jack—a rush-in-miss—four-to-land-one-kind of freestyle swatter—has ever learned. As a result, this corner backs Bob to make his first win slick.

THE POWER AND JOY OF PRAISE

It is so much easier to blame and find fault than it is to praise.
Praise is never "under proof!" It radiates like the sun, and it warms more than the one praised. It even warms the one who praises.

If no one ever praised or encouraged us, we would be poor working folks. Contrary to what some people think, praising a person does not make him conceited if that praise is genuinely merited. Rather it raises the spirit of the one praised to a high level.

I have noted that all animal trainers constantly give praise to their animals in some way or other. They pat, them, speak kindly, or give them some reward in the form of something to eat of which they are fond. Human beings, however, prefer kind words and praise to gratitudes, without praise.

When no encouragement comes to us from our work, our energies lag, and incentive melts rapidly away.
Every honest effort should reap its praise, even when the results show small. The more praise the greater will both effort and results mount.
It is a joy to work for one where praise is given whenever merited.
It is something that is always appreciated. Without praise and encouragement few of us could long strive. Not even for the monetary rewards.

I have never yet met anyone who did not welcome a word of praise and encouragement. And usually the bigger that man or woman, the more is it appreciated. It was a habit of Richard Harding Davis to praise the work of new writers, and many a one owed to him much of his later success. The late Bob Davis was also a star performer in this business of encouraging and praising those who showed ability and promise. So was the late Billy Phelps.

Praise is both food and drink to the mind and to the spirit. It is something that you gladly give away that has cost you nothing. It's soul spur that works double!

"Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Looking Backward."

Formal opening of the National garage annex, North Washington will make it their headquarters.

The National garage on Cham-

WOMEN TO GET MORE VOTES IN GOP CONVENTION

Harrisburg, Nov. 19 (AP)—Women
GOP leaders scattered to the four corners of the state today after high party officials outlined 1944 objectives at convention sessions of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, promised the feminine element more recognition and predicated victory in next year's Presidential race.

Declaring election results showed "the nation was tired of the New Deal and of the political party that has been enslaved by the New Deal," Governor Martin told a final session the political pendulum is ready to swing.

"The Republican party is taking over," he declared. "You have a share in this responsibility and your organization must bear its part of the burden."

Favors Home Rule
Martin criticized centralization of government and declared all voters were responsible for the trend away from home rule.

State Senator M. Harvey Taylor, state GOP chairman, assured the women of more feminine delegates to the party's Presidential convention after council members demanded more recognition.

"They deserve more and it looks like they'll get several," he declared

Butter Sales Above
Ceiling Bring Fine

Philadelphia, Nov. 19 (AP)—
Charles D. Steininger, 55, of Coop-ersburg, Pa., who made the "very best butter" and sold it at 13 to 21 cents a pound over ceiling prices, has been ordered to pay a $4,000 fine and given a suspended jail sentence.

Steininger pleaded no contest to charges brought by the Office of Price Administration. He contended he made no excess profit by selling butter at 73 cents a pound since he was paying 70 cents a pound for cream "which was nothing but the best."

Federal Judge Harry E. Kalodner said Wednesday he was sparing Steininger from a prison sentence because of reports he received from Steininger's own physician and because the man had two daughters in the service.

after addressing the convention.

Harrison E. Spangler, national Republican chairman, asserted "we look for a Republican victory" in Pennsylvania next year and pointed to the GOP triumph in Philadelphia mayorally race as an indication of voting trends.

Convention delegates were told by Governor Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts that:

"What our people are dissatisfied with is the growing tendency for the government to control more and more of their daily lives. The average citizen feels his local community can far better administer to his needs than a paternalistic government."

STARCHED LIABILITIES

Allentown, Pa. (AP)—The Allentown National bank is in the laundry business.

Seems laundryman Lee Kwong posted a sign in his window, "will not be open any more," and left town.

The bank, trustee for the building, announced it would take charge until all customers had called for their laundry.

MIXUP

Oklaoma City (AP)—A woman who wholesales sandwiches asked for more ration points because, she said, the man who makes her chicken salad is charging her seven points a pound.

"But lady," a rationing official declared, "he can't do that. Chicken is not rationed."

"Yes, but pork is," she replied.
"And in his chicken salad he uses half chicken and half pork."

SAD MAN

Milwaukee (AP)—A would-be Milwaukeean sounded a quavering new high in desperation, with an ad in the Milwaukee Sentinel which offered: "Six pairs of geor-geous nylon stockings to the persons who will rent me a suitable house."

Arizona state prisoners picked half a million pounds of cotton during the past year. They received the prevailing wage, out of which the cost of their food and guards was taken.

SITTING BULL'S FRIEND EXPIRES

Logansport, Pa., Nov. 19 (AP)— Brother Joseph Fielding, 93, who spent most of his life in the west as a missionary to the Indians and was a personal friend of the famed Sitting Bull, died yesterday at St.
Francis college, where he lived in retirement the last 10 years.

He was a member of the Third Order Regular of the Brothers of St. Francis of Penance.

Born in County Cork, Ireland, in 1850, he came to America in 1870.
Much of his missionary work was done in Minnesota and Nebraska and he was particularly identified with the Franciscan school at Clontarf, Minn.

Brother Fielding told friends that Sitting Bull was over-estimated as a warrior, that he usually was at a safe distance in the background while his warriors carried out raids.
One of his favorite anecdotes related how Sitting Bull came to the Franciscan school to borrow 25 cents to buy tobacco.

Aside from teaching religion.

A strange place it would be—this State of ours — if our splendid 89,230-mile network of highways suddenly ceased to exist.

A great many communities would be isolated. Others would find it infinitely more difficult to carry on even the most ordinary daily activities — with no trucks on the move, no cars or buses taking workers to war plants and farms, soldiers to camp and home on furlough, business travelers to nearby communities, children to school.

We Pennsylvanians are apt to take for granted the convenience of our excellent roads—but these highways just didn't grow.
Building and maintaining them is a tremendous job and for achieving this successfully we can thank past and present administrations and particularly the Pennsylvania Department of Highways.

That isn't the whole story, however. Transforming these lifeless ribbons of concrete and macadam into live, active arteries of public transportation has been the accomplishment of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission. They've labored hard and long to give our State a transportation system that compares favorably with any other in the country.

All of us who live and work and pay taxes in Pennsylvania can take pride in our share in this highway system.

As fellow citizens, the Greyhound Lines have made a very large contribution in the form of license, fuel and operating taxes — but we feel that our greatest service is in putting the highways to work for the benefit of all who must travel, making near neighbors and good neighbors of all the communities we serve throughout the State.

FINAL ASSEMBLY

By E. H. LEFTWICH

Chapter 8

"Oh, it's nothing," Kitty said. "But we must have every cut taken care of immediately to forestall infection . . . rules, you know." She held up her hand disclosing a tiny scratch. "So, you took my advice and decided to build planes?"

"You might call it that," Pete said, disgust in his tone. He had to raise his voice almost to the pitch of a yell to make himself heard above the riveting. Now, people were watching them. "I'd like to take you home tomorrow night," Pete told her, his mouth close to her ear. He didn't hear her "Okay," above the noise, but understood from the motion of her lips and her smile.

In a moment he was back again, chasing-the-dog with Alf, while Kitty's form grew small in the distance, finally disappearing around a corner.

"Where did you meet her?" Alf wanted to know. "Near my home in Center Valley. She told me about getting a job here . . ."

Pete's words broke off suddenly as he grabbed Alf's arm, indicating silence. He nodded his head toward a ship on the sub-assembly line next to the ship on which they were working. A big man was crawling stealthily out of the tail section, a pair of pliers in his hand. Glancing furtively from side to side, the man slid behind the next ship . . . and was gone.

"Hm-mm," said Alf. "I wonder what he was up to?"

Together, they made their way to the ship the man had been in. Alf produced a flashlight from his hip pocket. "I'll crawl inside," he said. "I'll see what he does."

He came out a moment or two later, shaking his head. "Can't find a thing wrong," he said.

"But, he must have done something in there," Pete protested. "Are you sure?"

"Nothing wrong in that ship," the old man came back. "I know the insides of them ships like I always know that the Cafeteria will have peas and carrots for lunch every night but Friday . . . then, it's fish. There's nothing wrong inside that ship!"

"Maybe he got scared out," Pete said. Then, "Did you get a good look at him? Do you know who he is?"

The old man nodded carefully. "That, my boy," he said, slowly, "was your Mr. Brackmyde!"

At precisely that moment, a big man in dingy white coveralls came around the end of the fuselage. Pete noticed something vaguely familiar about him. It was, "Big Boy," the man with whom he had had the argument as he came into the plant.

With little black eyes, Big Boy regarded the two dog-chasers. He started toward them. "It's him, now," Alf whispered. "It's Brackmyde."

Brackmyde, alias "Big Boy," came up to them and looked at Pete. "You're the new guy," he stated. "And I see they've put you with old man Mose, doing a little dog-chasing." With hands in his pockets, he rocked back on his heels and grinned. "Well, don't believe too much of what this old buzzard tells you." He took a step closer. "About this afternoon," he continued, "I'm sorry we had that little run-in, but you're new here and you didn't understand. Graham is just a little chiseler . . . owes nearly everybody in the plant . . ."

"Even if he is," Pete interrupted, "you had no right to pick on him."

"Okay, okay," Brackmyde waved a hand as if to dismiss the matter. "Now, I been watching you two from down the line and I'll give you a little friendly advice; cut down on the talking. Not that it makes a damn to me, but it don't look so hot when the big shots come by, see?"

Alf jumped forward a pace, facing Brackmyde. He shook a lean finger in his face, six inches from his nose. "Where's your yeller badge?" he hissed.

Brackmyde smiled unpleasantly. "What do you mean, yeller badge?"

"I mean your badge is green, just like ours, Brackmyde. Until you get a foreman's yeller badge, you got no right to come snooping around here telling us what to do!"

"Calm down, Mose," Brackmyde grabbed the old man's arm and held it down. "And quit shaking your hand in my face. I was just giving the new man a little advice."

"There ain't no rule against talking, is there?" Alf came back, face red. He shook his arm, but Brackmyde did not release it.

"No, but it don't look so good, and I wouldn't want a green man to get in bad on his first night."

"The hell you wouldn't!" Alf exploded. "When he wants advice from you, he'll ask for it . . . but I'll tell him now, it'll be lousy advice."

Pete stepped forward. "Let him go," he said quietly. "He's right. When we need your help, we'll call on you."

Brackmyde released Alf's arm and the old man rubbed it.

A moment after Brackmyde left, Barker walked up. "What did Brackmyde want?" he asked. "Was he bothering you?"

"Not at all," Pete answered. "He was just giving me some friendly advice, that's all."

"Well, don't pay too much attention to him. He's sort of worrisome at times. I often wonder why the Company keeps him here. It's precious little work he does."

"Them's my sentiments, exactly," Alf agreed, as the lunch whistle blasted the air.

HOT SPRINGS
Salisbury, N. C. (AP) — After moving back into his house here, Jimmie Thomas wondered why repeated stockings of the laundry heater simply would not produce hot water in the bathtub.

One of the Thomas children, however, found out.

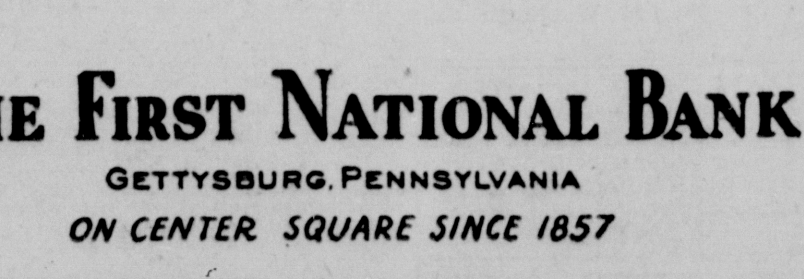

"Daddy," the child announced, "the fish are boiling!"

It seemed that a former tenant had tapped the hot water pipe under the house to supply the fishpond in the back yard.

SERGEANT LEE, OF AIR CORPS, WAR PRISONER

Another Adams countian is a prisoner of war.

Mrs. Jennie E. Boyd, Gettysburg, Monday morning received word from the War Department that her brother, Tech. Sgt. George E. Lee, is a prisoner of war of the German government.

The telegram follows:

"Report received through the International Red Cross states that your brother, Tech. Sgt. George E. Lee, is a prisoner of war of the German government. Letter of information follows from the Provost Marshal General."

Third Local Prisoner

The telegram was signed by Adjutant General Ulio.

Sergeant Lee is the third Adams countian to be taken prisoner by the enemy.

Sgt. Henry B. Pecher, of near Fairfield, is a prisoner of the Japs.

PFC. Paul L. Kuhn, of New Oxford, is a prisoner of the Germans.

Sergeant Lee enlisted in the Army Air Corps October 3, 1941, not quite two months before the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor by the Japs.

He was sent to Shepherd's Airfield, Texas, where he received his basic training. He was then sent to Scott Field, Illinois, and then to Salt Lake City, Utah. He also served at an airfield near Spokane, Washington. He was a radio operator.

Missing October 9th

Sergeant Lee arrived safely in England on April 17, 1943, and was assigned to the Eighth Air Force.

Mrs. Boyd received a letter from her brother dated October 6th stating that he had completed his 22nd flying mission over German-occupied territory and that he had been granted a two-day leave. He said that he planned to visit London.

On October 19th Mrs. Boyd received a telegram from the War Department stating that her brother was reported missing since October 9th. This would have been the first day after his return from a two-day leave.

No further word was received by Mrs. Boyd until the telegram from the War Department Monday morning.

Witnesses for the state this morning said that Shaffer had gone to the home of H. J. Goulker, near New Oxford, about midnight, October 23, and had called for his wife, who was staying with her mother at the Goulker home.

Domestic Squabble

According to the prosecution's witnesses some condensed milk cans were thrown through windows after Mrs. Shaffer refused to answer her husband and "about a half hour later" a garage was set afire near the Goulker house.

The jury hearing the case included Mrs. Catherine Bair, McSherrystown; George Bollinger, Hanover; Mrs. Esther Brindle, Seven Stars; Cletus Culp, Biglerville R. D.; Clarence Fess, New Oxford R. Robert Curvin Dietz, 34, Hallam R. 1, truck driver, entered a nolle contendere plea Thursday on a charge of involuntary manslaughter brought against him as a result of the death of William W. Miller, 68, Gettysburg R. 5, farmer in an accident October 13.

Dietz' case was one of eight scheduled to come before the November grand jury Friday morning. Dietz had been driving a truck owned by Hespeneide and Thompson, York grain dealers, at the time of the accident. Miller was driving a grain drill along the Lincoln highway four miles east of Gettysburg when Dietz ran into the rear of the drill, demolishing it and instantly killing Miller.

District Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., announced that the nolle contendere plea had been filed as the grand jury began its investigations Friday morning.

Joseph Martin, Gettysburg R. D., sentenced several months ago on a charge of public indecency, was paroled by the court Friday morning. The parole will extend for two years.

Harry Mummert and Howard W. Albright, who were appointed school directors for Conewago Independent district and whose terms would expire December 6, were reappointed by the court for six year terms as a result of a petition handed to the court Friday.

The grand jurors included Floyd E. Brown, Fairfield; Dennis Bucher, Littlestown R. D.; Alfred Clark, Biglerville R. 1; H. Allen Epley, Littlestown R. 1; Lloyd C. Gilbert, Gettysburg; Miss Bertha Heiges, Biglerville; Roy Hess, Gettysburg R. 3; D. D. Kendeheart, Gettysburg; Martin Kime, Gettysburg; Harry Kline-dine, York Springs R. 2; Harry Leonard, McSherrystown; Ralph A. Menchey, Gettysburg R. 3; J. E. Miller, New Oxford R. 2; Miss Mary Ramer, Gettysburg; Harold Reuning, Gettysburg; Jerry Spence, Gettysburg R. D.; Mrs. Margie Sterner, New Oxford R. D.; Neely Taughinbaugh, Gettysburg R. 4 and Harry Whitcomb, York Springs.

She is an assistant training administrator in the Plans and Training Section at First WAC Training Center, Fort Des Moines, Iowa.

Lieutenant Longanecker, who reported for active duty at Second WAC Training Center, Daytona Beach, Florida, Dec. 28, 1942, was selected for officer training at the completion of her Basic Training. She was graduated from Officer Candidate School at Fort Des Moines on March 9, 1943. Her first assignment was as an instructor in current events in the Basic Academic Section at Fort Des Moines.

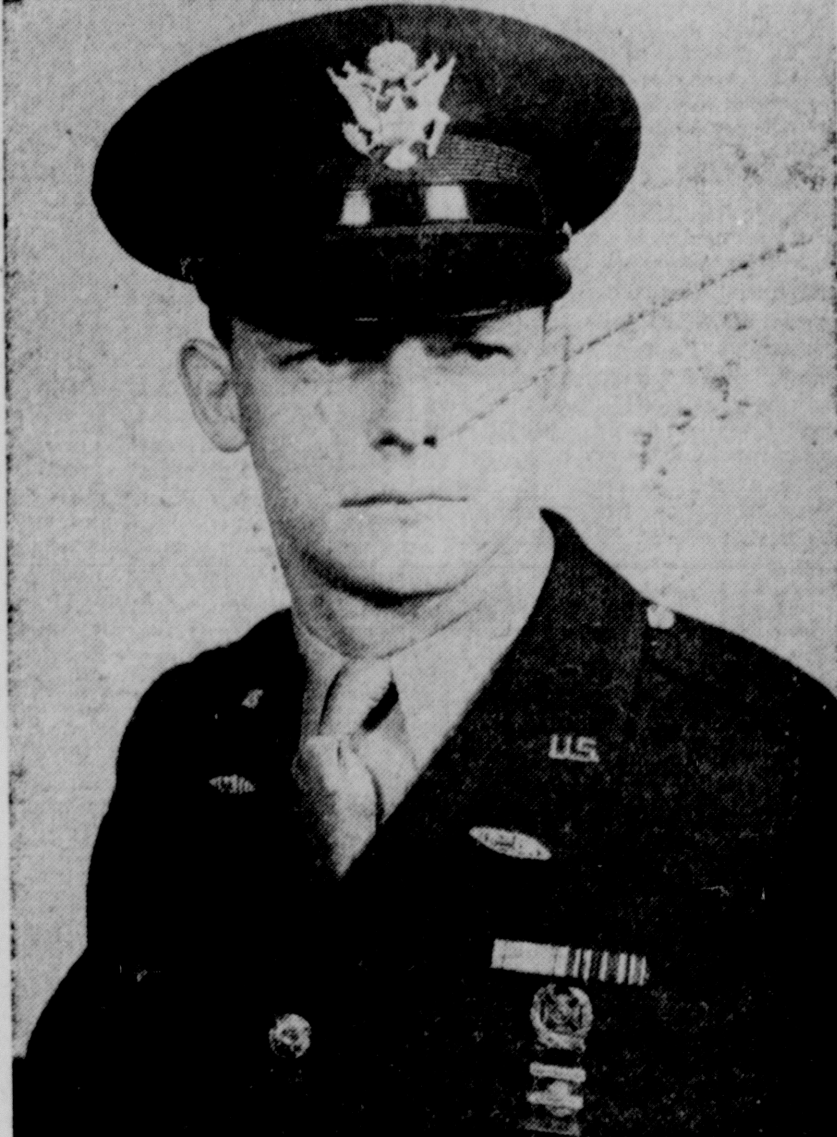

Before joining the WAC, Lieutenant Longanecker taught social studies for seven years at Mechanicsburg high school. She also directed the senior class plays and the service club at the high school.

Army Pilot Is Home On Leave

Lieutenant John M. Crouse, Army Air Corps, spent a week's furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Crouse, York street.

Lieutenant Crouse has been in service since November 25, 1940 when he joined the Governor's Troop at Indiantown Gap. He served at the National Guard military reservation until he joined the Air Corps in April, 1942 where he was assigned. He was commissioned an officer December 13, 1942 at Randolph Field, Texas. He served as an instructor at Pampa, Tex., and then was ordered to Frederick, Oklahoma, where he is instructing at the twin-engine advanced training school.

Goes To Staff School

North Camp Hill, Texas — Captain Shull L. Irwin, Gettysburg, son of Logan Irwin, Emmitsburg road, adjutant of North Camp Hood since its activation April 15, 1943, will leave soon to attend the Command and General Staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Captain Irwin is a graduate of Gettysburg college, and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the ROTC. He was called into active service in 1940 and was assigned to the 70th Tank Battalion at Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, where he was promoted to First Lieutenant in September of the same year.

He attended a Communications course at Fort Knox, Kentucky, then was attached to the First Infantry division at Fort Devens, Mass.

Later he was reassigned to the 70th Tank Battalion while it was at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, and was promoted to Captain.

In July, 1942, Captain Irwin was transferred to the 7th Tank Group at Camp Hood, Texas, and later became assistant adjutant in Camp Headquarters. When North Camp Hood was activated he was assigned as adjutant for the new encampment.

Mrs. Irwin is the former Patricia O'Kellner, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Victor J. O'Kellner, of Washington, D. C., and Oconto, Wisconsin. Mrs. Irwin and their children, Victor Logan and Patricia Ann, will return to Washington to make their home there while the captain is attending school.

TEST AIR RAID ALERT WORKED SMOOTHLY HERE

Defense heads at the county control center said that all control centers and subcenters in the county were manned and that all reports received showed that the defense workers were out in sufficient numbers to man all posts Wednesday morning.

First warning of the test was the yellow signal, calling C-D officials to their posts at 10:22. The blue signal, first audible alarm to be given, was received at 10:42 o'clock and the white or all clear signal was received at 11:06 o'clock. No red signal was given.

Covered Three States

The Gettysburg control center reported no hitches in the local civilian defense set-up with the majority of the wardens, policemen and other workers reporting for duty at the first signal.

Third Service Command headquarters in Baltimore said the test was part of a test alert conducted in Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia, on orders of the First Army Command in New York, the Associated Press reported. The series of tests started at 8:20 o'clock Wednesday morning in Virginia, where the test was held from 8:20 to 9 o'clock.

Major General Milton A. Reckord, of the Army's Third Service Command, had warned several days ago that military authorities were "disturbed over reports that a spirit of lethargy appears to be dominating the civilian protection organizations in Pennsylvania and elsewhere." The test was presumably held to correct misunderstandings that there would be no further air raid tests caused by the recent statement of the state Council of Defense.

Bill Shields Denies Taking Any Part In Politics Here

Harrisburg, Penna., (AP) — William I. Shields, Gettysburg, claimed before the State Health Department personnel board Tuesday that he was illegally dismissed as Adams county health officer and asked for reinstatement.

The health department charged he participated in political activities in violation of civil service regulations. Shields insisted he is innocent of the accusation.

The board promised a decision within three days. Its recommendation goes to the appointing authority involved—Health Secretary Dr. A. H. Stewart—who must determine final action.

A question to be settled first, however, is whether the personnel board is empowered to act in Shields' case. Those involved in a hearing of his appeal disputed whether he was a permanent employee when fired last September. Only such employees have the right to appeal.

Job Pays $2,136

The health department was placed under civil service two years ago with the understanding employees would be permanent, pending examination. Shields, appointed to his $2,136 job in 1939, took his examination last June but the alleged incident upon which his dismissal was based occurred before his list was certified.

While the health department claimed he was a permanent employee, personnel board member Mrs. Ruth Glenn Pennell declared "there is a doubt in my mind whether this is a problem which should come before us at this time and we'll have to confer with the attorney general on the matter."

Cite Times Article

Deputy Health Secretary Carl C. Tinsman testified that a Gettysburg Times article of August 2, 1943, prompted an investigation resulting in Shields' dismissal. The article which was admitted in evidence related:

"The annual election of officers of the Adams County Republican club will be held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the club room on Chambers-Larg street, it was announced by the president, William I. Shields."

"Under rules of the department," Tinsman said, "there must be no political action of employees under the merit system. Not wishing to take any action on the matter on the basis of the newspaper article, the secretary instructed me to make an investigation which I did."

Questioned Countians

The official stated that his inquiry included questioning of Adams County residents he said were unaware of his motive and that "I was personally satisfied he (Shields) had been politically active."

Asked if he had the statements of persons interviewed, Tinsman replied: "they are not called for in the rules and regulations (civil Please Turn to Page 2)"

YOUTHS ADMIT STORE ROBBERY

Solution of the robbery of the Gettysburg Hardware store on the night of October 1 was completed Wednesday with the arrest of two youths, both of whom have admitted their part in the theft, Chief of Police Glenn Guise said today.

One youth has been charged before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore with burglary and has signed a plea of guilty. He is free under $500 bail for his appearance in sentence court. The other boy will be arraigned in juvenile court.

The arrests were made by Chief Guise and Private Harold Trout of the Gettysburg detail of state police.

The pair smashed a store window facing the alley along the north side of the building to gain entrance. Cash was removed from an unlocked safe in the store room, Chief Guise said. Calvin Shank, proprietor, said about $60 was taken.

POPULATION OF COUNTY DROPS IN THREE YEARS

Adams county's population has decreased 2,215 from April 1, 1940 to March 1, 1943 according to estimates released by the Bureau of Census, U. S. Department of Commerce.

The population of Pennsylvania has decreased 4.4 per cent or 437,942 during the same period.

Adams county's population on April 1, 1940 was announced as 39,435. On March 1 of this year it was reported to have decreased to 37,220, a drop of 5.6 per cent.

9,457,755 In State

The estimates, based on the number of registrations for war ration book two, lists the state's civilian population in March, 1943 as 9,457,755 compared with 9,895,497 on April 1, 1940.

Because registration data were compiled only by counties, no estimates were made of changes in population in cities. However, those counties which had at least half their population in a metropolitan district in 1940 were designated as metropolitan counties.

For metropolitan areas which contain two or more counties estimates are not available for each county because of the probability that many persons living in one county registered in another. Counties which were grouped together as metropolitan areas were: Allegheny, Fayette, Washington and Westmoreland; Delaware, Montgomery and Philadelphia; Lackawanna and Luzerne; and Lehigh and Northampton.

Largest decrease in civilian population was 24.8 per cent in Fulton county while Mercer registered the greatest increase, 16.1 per cent.

Franklin county dropped from 69,378 to 63,948. Cumberland county jumped from 71,644 to 71,939. Dauphin county dropped from 176,953 to 171,123 and York county showed a decrease of from 177,971 to 174,703.

2 Killed, 7 Hurt In Week-End Crashes

Two persons were killed and seven others injured, at least two of them seriously, in two week-end auto accidents which occurred within a 24-hour period on county highways.

A soldier is dead, a Hanover youth is unconscious in the Warner hospital and five other persons are suffering from less serious injuries as a result of a two-car crash at the York Springs intersection at 2 o'clock Monday morning.

A 17-year-old youth was killed and his girl companion was seriously hurt when their machine hit a bridge wall at the southern edge of Biglerville at 2 a. m. Sunday.

Soldier Dies Car Strikes Bridge Wall

A Berks county soldier returning to his post at Fort Meyer, Virginia, was fatally injured and two companions were hurt when their car collided with a machine bearing four Hanover boys home from a roller skating party at Carlisle.

The crash occurred Monday morning at 2 o'clock at the York Springs intersection. All of the Hanover youths were injured, at least one of them seriously, while a fourth soldier escaped with a shaking up. Both cars were badly damaged.

PFC. Ralph Shatzler, 19, Laureldale, Berks county, was killed instantly. He was thrown out of the car, suffering a fracture of the skull, fractured nose, fractured upper jaw with several teeth knocked out, multiple lacerations of the face and shock. He remains today in a semi-conscious condition at the hospital where his condition was described as serious.

Miss Emma Keller, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Keller, Carlisle, suffered a possible fracture of the skull, fractured nose, fractured upper jaw with several teeth knocked out, multiple lacerations of the face and shock. She remains today in a semi-conscious condition at the hospital where her condition was described as serious.

Long, who works at a Carlisle garage during the week, had gone to Keymar, Maryland, Saturday evening with Miss Keller to visit relatives there. They were returning to Carlisle when the accident occurred. Private Anthony Martin, of the local state police, who investigated, said he believed Long had fallen asleep just prior to hitting the bridge.

The car struck the eastern side of the concrete bridge wall and then continued on down the bank, coming to rest on its side in the stream.

Charles Kint, Biglerville, who was the first person to pass the scene of the accident, saw the car in the stream and returned to Biglerville for assistance. Arthur Phiel, Jr., of Gettysburg, who was visiting there was found by Kint and the two men took Miss Keller to the Warner hospital. She was unconscious when found.

Doctor Crist said no inquest will be held in the case unless further investigation shows Miss Keller was at the wheel when the crash occurred.

To All Adams Countians In Service:

GREETINGS:

Do you remember the special "Merry Christmas" edition we published last year containing greetings from you folks in service to your home folks and their Xmas greetings to you?

Well, we are going to do practically the same thing this year. However, it will have to be on a little different scale. Because of the shortage of newspaper paper we won't be permitted to publish a special edition on book paper . . . but we will publish the Xmas greetings in our annual Christmas edition.

That's what this special message is about.

We'd like to have you send us, NOW, your own personal Xmas greeting message for your folks. Of course, we don't want them to know about it, so please don't tell them.

Just sit down, as soon as you get a few minutes spare time, and write your own Merry Christmas greeting to your folks. BUT BE SURE TO SEND IT TO US. We'll take care of it and publish it in our annual Christmas edition . . . as a sort of a surprise to your folks at home. Of course, you'll get a copy of the edition, too.

Please don't wait until the last minute. You know how these war-time conditions have drained us of manpower . . . making us rather short-handed in our plant. We don't mind that, because it's all part of the program to win this war. But we need time to put this edition together so if you send us your Christmas Greeting now it will help us out considerably.

Just do it this way.

Write your parents' full name and complete address, at the top of the page. Then write your Christmas greeting. Then sign the message giving us your complete name, rank and address. That's all. We'll do the rest.

Thanks a lot and good luck to you all.

ALLOW SHIELDS $1,785 FOR PLOT ON OAK RIDGE

William I. Shields, Gettysburg, has been allowed $1,785 by a federal court-appointed board of viewers for the 23-acre plot of land to the rear of the Eternal Light Peace Memorial which has been the subject of a condemnation proceeding by the federal government since 1941.

Both the government and Mr. Shields have the right to appeal from the viewers' award. Mr. Shields said Tuesday he is undecided about an appeal.

At an adjourned hearing conducted at the post office building here on October 28 Mr. Shields valued the tract at from $3,000 to $3,500 taking into consideration the timber and the suitability of the land for home and cottage sites.

One witness called by the government at the hearing valued the land at $500 or $1,150 while written estimates of the value of the timber on the tract were given at $1,000 and $1,300.

Paid $500 Plus

The first hearing in the condemnation proceeding, which was started after Mr. Shields and the government failed to agree on a price for which the land would be transferred to the National Park Service, was held in August, 1941, on the basis of a 28-acre tract. The record was amended later to cover only 23 acres, eliminating a strip of land east of the railroad tracks.

At the hearing two years ago, Mr. Shields valued the 28 acres at $3,000 and said he had been offered that figure for it in 1939. He testified he paid $500 and "other considerations" for the piece of land.

The board of viewers included P. E. Orner, Charles J. Toot and S. L. Allison.

ISSUES APPEAL FOR DONATIONS TO RELIEF FUND

Adams county's rural residents today were urged by Paul A. Kinsey, chairman of the county War Fund drive, to send their contributions to the fund to solicitors in the nearest town.

"It is apparent that the solicitors, all of whom are giving their time gratis, will be unable to reach the rural areas surrounding their communities because of the shortage of gasoline," Mr. Kinsey asserted. "Most of the solicitors are using what little gasoline they have available to reach farmers and others near their towns but they will not be able to reach the large majority of rural dwellers."

Many Not Reached

"Many rural residents have already left contributions with the solicitors during trips into nearby communities, and I feel that hundreds of others will wish to give, but have not so far because they have not been asked," he said. "Do not wait for the solicitor to see you—simply leave your donations with a solicitor the next time you go to your nearest community," Mr. Kinsey urged.

ASK XMAS MAIL FOR NOVEMBER

Another appeal to make November "Christmas Mailing Month" was issued Thursday by Acting Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyler, who said that delivery of the annual flood of Christmas gifts and cards, on time, always a serious problem, "will be more than a problem this year—it will be an impossibility—unless Christmas mailings are made largely in November."

"Transportation facilities are burdened to the limit with war materials and personnel, and the postal service has sent more than 31,000 experienced employees into the Army and Navy," Mr. Oyler said. "The only solution to the Christmas problem is: Mail in November. Mark your parcels. Do not open until Christmas." That is the only way to avoid disappointment on Christmas Day not only for many civilians but also for the members of the armed forces who are still in this country.

"It is also the only way to avoid the possibility of a Christmas emergency in the transportation and postal services. If the public will cooperate by mailing their Christmas parcels during November, we can handle a small volume of light, last-minute mailings, such as cards, up to December 10—but we can do that and avoid an emergency only if November is really 'Christmas Mailing Month.'"

Mr. Oyler pointed out that the volume of regular mail now is far above any previous records.

CANCEL USO DANCE

The November USO dance has been cancelled, it was announced Thursday by the USO committee in charge. The next dance will be held at the college for the members of the armed forces probably in January, it was stated.

Ensign Waltemyer Speaks At College

Ensign Miriam E. Waltemyer, Navy Women's Reservist of the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Philadelphia, spoke Wednesday afternoon to women members of the senior class at Gettysburg college.

She discussed the Navy's new policy of offering college seniors a chance to qualify for WAVES officer's training under the Class V-9 program. She held personal interviews with interested students. At noon she dined at the Chi Omega sorority house and spoke briefly to the girls there. Wednesday evening she was the dinner guest of the Delta Gamma sorority of which she is a member.

Ensign Waltemyer is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William C. Waltemyer, Springs avenue, and formerly taught Latin in the Gettysburg high school.

YOUTHS STEAL CARS FOR WILD "EXCURSIONS"

Nocturnal excursions of a quartet of Gettysburg youths who traveled in "borrowed" cars, fueled by stolen gasoline coupons and financed at least partly by sale of auto accessories that did not belong to them, have been brought to a close during the last few days by Chief of Police Glenn Guise and Private Harold Trout of the state police.

The youths, ranging in age from 14 to 17 years and residing in or near Gettysburg, are being arraigned in juvenile court.

Chief Guise said Thursday that the boys for some time have been removing cars at night from the storage room operated by Glenn C. Bream at the rear of the former Butt's restaurant on York street, and using them for trips of 200 to 300 miles a night.

Damage Property

Police have heard from many sources about the "high jinx" that have marked those nightly excursions but it was only last Saturday that Mr. Bream reported that someone apparently was taking his used cars out of storage at night and returning them before dawn with speedometers showing considerably higher readings.

Farmers have reported mailboxes knocked over or broken. Parked cars in Bonneauville and elsewhere have mysteriously been overturned at night. Others have been given partial new coats of paint in assorted hues. Car windows have been smashed and accessories have disappeared.

Chief Guise said the youths used a pass key to enter the garage on their frequent visits.

Most of the nightly excursions were made in the direction of Hanover, the officer asserted.

Altar Cloths Given Gettysburg Seminary

A set of altar cloths, made from a cope believed to be 250 years old, has been presented to the Gettysburg Seminary by Dr. G. E. Miller, Baltimore and Mrs. W. R. Sammel, York, in honor of their father Judge E. P. Miller, Gettysburg, formerly of Abbotstown.

The gift was presented on Judge Miller's recent 83rd birthday. They are for the altar, pulpit, and lectern and include a set of stoles. They will be used in the Seminary chapel.

The cope, believed to have been that of a Spanish Catholic bishop, was purchased from a college in New York. Two years were spent in making the altar cloths at the Swedish Lutheran Deaconess Mother House, Omaha, Nebraska.

Fairfield C. Of C. Studies Housing

The Fairfield Chamber of Commerce has named a committee to study the housing shortage there with special attention to be given to finding sites and prospective builders for homes to house shoe factory workers there.

The committee, headed by J. B. Waddles, was named at a special meeting of the Chamber last week and was instructed to present a report in two weeks. A special meeting of the Chamber will be called to hear the report. L. E. Beaudin, owner of the shoe factory, placed in operation in Fairfield several months ago, is considering the erection of a model dwelling in the community which may furnish the pattern for a more elaborate building program.

MRS. MARY HAKE 95 ON TUESDAY

Mrs. Mary J. Hake, Gettysburg, observed her 95th birthday Tuesday. No special celebration was planned for the occasion because of the illness of Mrs. Hake. She has been bedfast since June.

A sister, Mrs. Emma Robert, Gettysburg, and the family of her son, W. H. Hake, who reside at home, were present for the day.

Mrs. Hake recalls the battle of Gettysburg from an incident at the farm near McKnightstown where she lived with her parents, the late George and Annie Trostle Biesecker. Some Confederates, believed to have been part of Stuart's cavalry, stopped at the Biesecker home and took the horses and most of the foodstuffs, she said.

Had 9 Children

Mrs. Hake remembers her father speaking to one of the soldiers when the sound of a cannon shot was heard. The soldier said, "Boys, the battle is opening" and the horsemen mounted and rode away at top speed toward Gettysburg.

Her husband, the late W. A. Hake, died in 1891. They had nine children, of whom three are still living. W. H. Hake, Gettysburg; J. Nevil Hake, Laurel, Indiana, and Mrs. Mary VanDyke, Cranberry, New Jersey.

Besides Mrs. Robert one other sister is still living, Mrs. Milton R. Biesecker, Delaware, Ohio. Mrs. Hake has lived in Adams county all of her life, moving to Gettysburg from a farm near McKnightstown after her husband's death.

moved until a telephone company crew from Gettysburg arrived about 5 o'clock.

The Pittenturf ambulance of York Springs took the injured civilians to the Warner hospital where they remained patients Monday. The soldiers were taken to Gettysburg by the Adams county ambulance. York Springs residents recalled that on the night of September 14, 1941, another soldier, Sgt. Allen Gardner, received injuries in a similar traffic crash at the same intersection that resulted in his death on October 2 of that year.

War Service Honor Roll Dedicated At Armistice Day Rites are 2,640 names on the board at the present time.

Committee Members
Persons who notice misspelled names on the roll were asked by Doctor Wickerham to report the misspellings to the honor roll committee. Parents of men and women in the Army were urged to report the deaths of service men. The honor roll committee chairman urged that all reports be made to the committee in writing—not by telephone—so that permanent records can be kept. A post card or letter containing the details will be sufficient, he said.

The honor roll committee included, besides Doctor Wickerham, C. Arthur Brame, representing the American Legion; James Shenk, Lions; Mrs. Henrietta Blocher, Soroptimists; Edward Culver, Moose; Rufus Bushman, Elks; James B. Aumen, fire company and Eagles, and G. H. Roth, Rotary.

The honor roll committee included, besides Doctor Wickerham, C. Arthur Brame, representing the American Legion; James Shenk, Lions; Mrs. Henrietta Blocher, Soroptimists; Edward Culver, Moose; Rufus Bushman, Elks; James B. Aumen, fire company and Eagles, and G. H. Roth, Rotary.

Colonel Hafer charged the audience to remember that the erection of the honor roll does not meet the full obligation of the public to the men and women in service and to the cause which they are serving. "No person here will deny his responsibility to furnish blood plasma, buy war bonds, plan for the care of wounded and disabled, plan for the employment of returning soldiers and help with the salvage drives," Colonel Hafer said.

Dr. Wickerham Presides

The ceremonies opened shortly before 8 o'clock Thursday evening with the arrival of the 55th College Training Detachment (Aircrew) from Gettysburg college, the high school band, American Legion color guard and the county unit of the State Guard Reserve into the square. The air cadets massed about the northern half of the square while the State Guard stood on the southeastern quarter of the square.

The color guard, comprising Lawrence M. Sheads, Howard W. Shaffer, Paul L. Spangler and Vincent Florence, marched to the honor roll on the site of the Dougherty and Hartley building where they stood at attention throughout the service.

Dr. R. D. Wickerham presided at the service which was preceded by selections by the high school band and the air cadet band. The Rev. Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, of the Gettysburg Lutheran seminary faculty, gave the invocation. George P. Black, of the Sons of Union Veterans, led the assembly in singing "America."

Unveiled by Gold Star Couple

Judge W. C. Sheely introduced Colonel Hafer. In his introduction Judge Sheely termed the honor roll construction another example of the "willingness of Adams counties to work together in a patriotic enterprise." High praise was given by Judge Sheely to the members of the honor roll committee and to all others who took part in the erection of the marker.

Following Colonel Hafer's address, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Kendechar, parents of James Kendechar, first cousin reported killed in action in this war, unveiled the honor roll. Temporary floodlights were turned on the cream-colored wooden cases containing the roll of honor. The names of the men in service are printed in gold on mahogany painted wooden strips fastened to a black background.

Seek Names Omitted

The singing of "God Bless America" led by Mr. Black, a moment of silence in honor of those who have lost their lives in the two World Wars, benediction by the Rev. Mark E. Stock, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, and the "Star Spangled Banner" concluded the service.

Doctor Wickerham asked persons who note omissions in the list of names on the honor roll to write to the county honor roll committee at the First National bank building, Gettysburg, giving the name of the man or woman in service, the address at the time of entering service, date of entry, branch of the service, and the name of the person giving the information so that the list may be made complete. HOLD 2 YOUTHS FOR ROBBERIES

Two 15-year-old county youths have been in custody of their parents waiting an appearance before Juvenile court for allegedly stealing two watches, several rings, $55 in cash and other articles in Mt. Joy township.

Four robberies were committed in all by one of the youths, while the other took part in only one of the thefts, according to Corporal Earl Moore, of the local state police, who apprehended the boys. The robberies extended from September to November 4 with the homes of Howard Storm and Harry Burns, both of Gettysburg R. 1, being rifled by the youngsters, according to police.

The Burns home was entered three times with a total of $55 in cash pilfered during the visits. Two watches, the rings and other small articles were stolen from the Storm home, which was entered once. One of the watches and the other small articles were recovered by police.

The other watch, police say, was destroyed after the youngsters attempted to sell the watch and were unable to dispose of it. All of the money apparently had been spent, the officer said.

TWO OFFICERS DRAW SIMILAR ASSIGNMENTS

Lieutenant Robert H. Deardorff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Deardorff, Carlisle street, and Lieutenant Roger C. Woodcock, Fredonia, New York, seem to be placed on the same line in the U. S. Army's assignment book, according to letters received here from the Gettysburg officer.

Lieutenant Deardorff first met Lieutenant Woodcock while both were at Officers' Candidate School for engineers at Fort Belvoir, Virginia. After completing the course there the two newly commissioned officers compared orders and found they were both to be sent to Camp Adair, Oregon. When Lieutenant Deardorff had spent a month there, he received orders sending him to Camp White, Oregon. Lieutenant Woodcock received similar orders.

Both Overseas

While the two officers were stationed at Camp White, near Medford, Oregon, Lieut. and Mrs. Woodcock shared a bungalow with Lieutenant Deardorff and his wife, the former Miss Elmina Slaybaugh, East Middle street. In May, Lieutenant Deardorff received orders for foreign duty. He found that Lieut. Woodcock had received the same orders despite the fact that only a few officers from each battalion were to go and the two men were in different battalions. Both were directed to report to Seattle, Washington. They traveled on the same train. They both lived in the same building at Seattle.

The two men were certain they had been parted by the Army when Lieutenant Deardorff sailed in July while Woodcock remained in Seattle.

Recently Mrs. Deardorff received the following letter from her husband: "You could never guess who walked into our post today. None other than Roger Woodcock." The officers are now stationed at the same camp overseas and living in the same building.

CORONER OPENS INQUEST FRIDAY IN FATAL CRASH

A formal coroner's inquest into the death early Monday morning of Pfc. Ralph Shatzler, 19, Laurel, Pa., in an auto crash at the York Springs intersection, will be opened this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the court house by Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner.

Today's testimony will be confined to the questioning of Shatzler's three soldier companions who may not be available at a later date when occupants of the other car are able to be questioned at another inquest session, the date of which has not been set.

The other soldiers, two of whom were hurt, were taken to the Carlisle Barracks from the Warner hospital a few hours after the accident.

Three occupants of the other machine, Harold Little, 16, Hanover; Francis Altland, 16, Abbotstown, and Leonard Zinn, 18, Hanover, remain in the Warner hospital. Little has been unconscious since the crash. Zinn admitted after the accident that he was the driver and two of his companions are said to have confirmed that statement.

Burnell Rubenstein, 17, Hanover, has been discharged from the hospital. He told Private George Ackerson, state policeman who investigated the accident, that he was asleep before the crash.

EQUIPMENT SOLD

The garage equipment of the Central Auto company, York street, was disposed of at public sale, Wednesday evening.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. Stanley Slonaker, Fairfield R. 1, has been admitted as a patient to the Warner hospital. Those discharged were E. Dale Helges, Biglerville; Burnell Rubenstein, Hanover, and Miss Elizabeth Rogers, Baltimore street.

adding he was officially notified the following day.

An affidavit from Swope was offered. It stated he tried to organize the Republican Club the latter part of July "but it was called off because of the approach of the primary election."

Asked if he had any further statement, Deputy Secretary Tinstman commented only "the facts are there."

"We ask that Mr. Shields be restored to his position with his salary," asserted Caldwell.

"It seems to me he was condemned without a chance to defend himself. There has been no competent evidence offered against Mr. Shields. He has completely explained the report in the paper crediting him with being president of the club."

Replying to a reference of Caldwell that "only one side" of the matter was obtained through the health department investigation, Tinstman declared:

"I stated the people did not know for what purpose I was approaching him. I have nothing against him personally."

Swope Affidavit
Shields said he did not know of his dismissal until it appeared in the newspaper on September 13,

Littlestown Marine In Army Hospital

Sgt. Edwin C. Anthony, of the U. S. Marine Corps, who saw action in six major battles, was admitted as a patient to the Carlisle Barracks hospital, suffering from malaria. He was removed to the hospital on Friday week from the home of his mother, Mrs. J. Walter Brendle, Littlestown.

Sgt. Anthony arrived home on November 2 for his first visit in nearly four years. He has been in the Marine Corps for about five years. He was at Pearl Harbor when the Japs attacked there and saw action in the South Pacific, being a veteran of the Guadalcanal campaign. He was outside the States for three years and seven months. Sgt. Anthony contracted malaria in Guadalcanal and was ill with the disease for a time in New Zealand.

BENDERSVILLE OVER THE TOP IN WAR DRIVE

Only one of the twelve districts in the Adams county War Fund drive has gone "over the top" so far, with the Bendersville district tripling the $1,000 goal set for it.

Donation of $2,500 by the Peach Glen plant of the Knouse corporation pushed the Bendersville area far over its goal and additional donations from that section have added another $1,000. The Knouse employees gave the largest average gift of any large group of workers in the county, with the men and women there giving an average of $4 per person to raise half of the $2,500. The Knouse corporation added the other half of the sum to meet the employees' contributions. Second highest average giving by any large group of workers was the mark set by the men and women at the Gardners plant of the C. H. Musselman company who averaged a little over $2 apiece, Chairman Paul A. Kinsey estimated Saturday.

Total Is $12,292.10

Contributions to the War Fund reached $12,292.10 Saturday with both Gettysburg and county solicitors reporting additional donations.

A $100 contribution was received by the treasurer, Mrs. Ellen Tip-ton Buehler, from the Gettysburg Throwing company while another $1 was received from the Gardners plant of the Musselman company bringing the total from that plant to $429.75. Mrs. Luther McDannell, solicitor for the third block of West Middle street reported collections of $12.65 and $10 was from York street residents.

The Misses Roberta and Mary Bittinger secured $20 additional in Cashtown, bringing the total from that community to $96. Mrs. Grover C. Myers turned in an additional $78 from Gardners, bringing the total there to $142.50. Included in the latest returns from Gardners were $25 from Christ Lutheran Sunday school, Aspers, and $25 from Mr. and Mrs. J. Willis Weigle. Mrs. Eva R. Snyder reported $10 additional from New Chester and vicinity, bringing the total from that section to $116.

Other Donations

Contributions from Cashtown, Gardners and New Chester have all exceeded the amount turned in from those sections in last year's USO drive. The totals there were, Cashtown, $71.86; Gardners, $120 and New Chester, $56.62.

The treasurer, Mrs. Buehler, today reported that $5,668.90 has been received directly by her so far and that solicitors have secured $6,623.20. Gettysburg's share of the donations so far is $1,861.14. The amount received so far from solicitors in other communities include: New Oxford, $945.65; Littlestown, $934.16; Flora, Pa. $685; Biglerville, $358.50; Arendtsville, $352; York Springs, $260.50; East Berlin, $224.20; Gardners, $142.50; Bendersville, $167.50; New Chester, $116; Cashtown, $96; Abbotstown, $93; Orrtanna, $92.05; Bonneauville, $90; Brysonia, $57; Hunterstown, $35.50; McKnightstown, $33.75; Idaville, $30; Iron Springs, $28; Heidlersburg, $15.75, and Table Rock, $5.

The quarterly board meeting was held in the early afternoon when reports of the activities of the various committees from the different parishes were read. Miss Mary Eberhart was elected Deaneys president to succeed Mrs. Frank Borries, New Oxford.

Former Countian Is Saved By WAC

Pvt. Margaret H. Maloney, a WAC from Rochester, New York, was awarded the Soldier's Medal for heroism, Wednesday, for rescuing a York soldier, a former resident of East Berlin, from a gasoline fire in the North African theater.

The 26-year-old WAC, who is only four feet 11 inches tall, is believed to be the first woman ever to receive the coveted decoration. She is credited with having saved the life of Pvt. Kenneth M. Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jacobs, York formerly of East Berlin, and a grand-son of Isaac Miller, late cashier of the East Berlin National bank Jacobs fell into a pool of blazing gasoline, September 11.

TELLS ROTARY CLUB OF LOCAL FURNITURE CO.

The local furniture factories, originating in a saw mill brought here from Orrtanna in 1902, have grown to such dimensions that in one year—1941—ten million feet of lumber, 8,000,000 feet of face veneer and 12,000,000 feet of backing were used among hundreds of other materials to make furniture, M. C. Jones, manager of the local furniture factories told the Rotary club at a luncheon at the YWCA at noon Monday.

While on a "sound financial footing" now, the factories had difficulty in the beginning. The 1902 plant was purchased by a York manufacturer in 1904. He nearly failed and sold out in 1907 to C. S. Reaser, who was then at York. Reaser came to Gettysburg on a bicycle—"because he did not have enough money to afford train fare," Mr. Jones said. At the end of a two-day stay here, Mr. Reaser was the owner of the original plant. He organized the Reaser factory with 14 workmen.

Mr. Jones came here in 1907 and in 1909 left when it appeared that the local plant was tottering, due to the general depression. He was recalled and in 1912 was placed in charge of the Hanover Cabinet works. In 1918 he became manager here after Mr. Reaser's death. Mr. Reaser had organized the Gettysburg Furniture factory in 1912.

Local Expansion

Since that time the plants have expanded rapidly. In 1920 the cabinet factory was added and since that time the size of the plants has been doubled.

Furniture making is a highly competitive business, Mr. Jones said, with over 3,000 manufacturers, 50 per cent of whom are in towns of less than 10,000. There is no national organization to set styles and prices and as a result each of the 3,000 is seeking to produce the best possible work at the lowest cost. While many plants failed during depression times, the conservative policy of the local plants have enabled them to weather some of the worst financial storms of the country, Mr. Jones pointed out. The financial plan of the local companies allows them to keep open "even when you can't sell furniture" thus permitting employment during depression times.

Dr. Frederick Tilberg presided at the session with 28 members present. David Oyler was introduced as a new member.

MISS EBERHART HEADS DEANERY

One hundred and thirty-eight members of the Conewago Deanery of the National Council of Catholic Women attended their fourth annual Day of Recollection held at St. Joseph's academy, McSherrystown, Sunday.

Included in the group were members from the various parishes of the Deanery, McSherrystown, New Oxford, Littlestown, Gettysburg, Bonneauville and Buchanan Valley.

The Day of Recollection opened with Mass at 8:30 o'clock. During the day conferences and meditations were given by the Rev. Fr. Charles J. Mullaly, S.J., from the Jesuit Novitiate, Wernersville. Father Mullaly was a former editor of "The Sacred Heart Messenger" and the author of several books. The spiritual exercises closed with Holy Hour from 4 to 5 o'clock.

The quarterly board meeting was held in the early afternoon when reports of the activities of the various committees from the different parishes were read. Miss Mary Eberhart was elected Deaneys president to succeed Mrs. Frank Borries, New Oxford.

BIGLER DROPS FINAL CONTEST BY 13-6 SCORE

Biglerville high school dropped its final football game of the season Wednesday evening on the Cannery's field to Washington Township high 13-6 before approximately 400 fans.

A forward pass followed by a lateral to Misner who scampered about 30 yards produced the winning touchdown for Washington Township in the final period.

The game opened with Washington Township kicking to the Cannery and Coach Smith's outfit promptly marched to the visitors' 25. Here the attack broke down and Washington Township took over and drove down field only to be stopped after working into Biglerville territory. Play was confined mostly to midfield the remainder of the period.

Visitors Score

A quick kick in the second period which sailed over the Biglerville safety man put the Smith-men back on their own 15. The Cannery were soon forced to kick and a little later Misner went around end and raced 35 yards for a score. Biglerville failed to threaten the opponents during the round.

A sustained drive down field after receiving the second half kickoff netted Biglerville its lone score, Pitzer pounding over from the eighty-yard line. A line plunge for the extra point failed.

Early in the last period Misner got off on an 85-yard jaunt for what appeared to be a score but the play was called back when a visiting player was detected clipping. Two similar plays, a forward pass followed by a lateral, finally resulted in Misner's winning touchdown. A pass to Dowd was good for the extra point.

Play Well

Ogden and Pitzer played outstanding games on the offense for the upper countians while Misner and Bloom stole the honors for the visitors, the latter two time and again pulling down Biglerville ball carriers from the rear.

The defeat was the fifth in a row for Biglerville and its sixth loss as against two ties for the season.

SELECT ROSE BOWL TEAMS

San Francisco, Nov. 15 (AP)—The war has shattered another precedent in the sports world. There will be no East-West football game in the Rose Bowl January 1.

Instead, twice-beaten University of Southern California and undefeated University of Washington will make it an all-western affair with the Pacific Coast Conference championship at stake.

A special committee of the coast conference yesterday picked Washington's virtually untied but apparently powerful Huskies to oppose the fast-fading Trojans, winners of the southern half of the war-split conference title, in Pasadena New Year's Day.

The committee said it had "explored in full the possibility of playing a game of traditional east-west character but from all points of view, including the military, the Washington - Southern California contest was the most desirable and practicable under present war conditions."

It will be the first time in the history of the Rose Bowl contests at Pasadena—dating back to 1916—that two Pacific Coast Conference teams have met. In World War I, service men from the west coast played there on New Year's Day. Military orders against large assemblages forced removal of the 1942 game to Durham, North Carolina, where Oregon State defeated Duke university 20-16.

WPIAL Grid Titles At Stake Saturday

Pittsburgh, Nov. 18 (AP)—Four WPIAL high school football teams will clash Saturday for two championships.

An even battle is expected when Pitcairn and Aspinwall play for the "B" title. Each team has won all nine of its games this season. Aspinwall has not been scored on and Pitcairn has yielded only three touchdowns to its foes.

Dormont and Glassport will play at Clairton for the class "A" championship.

Nittany Lions Get Real Cub Mascot

State College, Pa., Nov. 16 (AP)—Penn State now has an honest to goodness Lion cub mascot.

A 12-pound, bottle-fed cub was presented to the college last night when the Vox Pop radio program was broadcast from the campus portraying the activities of a college in wartime.

Aldo Cenci, a back on the football team, accepted the furry mascot from Movie Actor Warren Hull and Parks Johnson, the show's two masters of ceremonies. Penn State's athletic teams have long been called the Nittany Lions.

Interviewed by Hull and Johnson were Cenci, Irena Erger, a Polish girl studying at Penn State; Howear Bucher, of Mt. Lebanon, all-college president; William Morris, Philadelphia, a freshman, and John Ransome, of Lutherville, Maryland, a naval trainee.

A capacity crowd of 6,600 packed State's recreation hall for the show.

CAMP HILL IS 21-13 WINNER OVER CANNERS

Coach Roger Smith's Biglerville high eleven gave the strong Camp Hill high team a stiff battle Friday night but lost a 21-13 decision in a Lower Susquehanna conference game played at Camp Hill.

Baker, Camp Hill back, tallied once, tossed a touchdown pass, and then tossed a point after touchdown pass, and caught another one-point pass. In addition, he marked up a gain each time he carried the ball.

For Biglerville, which presented a hard running offensive, Jim Pitzer, who bulled his way for eight yards for the first score for the Cannery and set up the second tally with a 34-yard gallop to the Camp Hill 16-yard line, stood out. Richard Ogden, speedy Caner back, also turned in some nice runs, and Tom Yost's defensive play was outstanding.

Ogden Runs 35

After scoring the opening touchdown on a sustained drive of 80 yards in the first period, the Lions were tied early in the second period as Ogden raced 35 yards to the Camp Hill 16 on a reverse, and Pitzer tallied from the eight. The Lions immediately hit back as a Baker to Slike pass was completed for 31 yards to the Biglerville 28; another pass went to the eight, and Baker and Shover in two plays made it a touchdown to bring the score to 14 to 7 at halftime, with Camp Hill leading.

The Lions received the kick-off in the second half, and moved 90 yards to a touchdown, with Baker passing to Slike for the score after Shover set up the play with a 37-yard run. Clyde Lady scored the final Biglerville six-pointer just before the game ended.

Biglerville will play its final game of the season on Wednesday evening in a "booster night" game with Washington Township at Biglerville.

Fair Weather To Aid Bear Hunters

Harrisburg, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Game Commission said Pennsylvania bear hunters will have the best hunting conditions in years if clear weather continues.

The annual season opened yesterday with snow providing good tracking in most northern sections. The commission said reports from three of four districts showed no early kills but added as many hunters as usual were reported in most areas.

Denver, Nov. 15 (AP)—A bid for a New Year's Day game in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas has been made in behalf of the untied, undefeated Colorado college team by the Denver Junior Chamber of Commerce.

LANCASTER 11 FALLS BEFORE DELONE 18-12

Delone Catholic High gained sweet revenge for an earlier season defeat by defeating Lancaster Catholic 18-12 in a game played on the McSherrystown gridiron Sunday afternoon before approximately 1,200 fans.

Coach Jake Dracha's team rolled up an 18-0 lead before the visitors could tally. Lancaster's final score coming in the last 10 seconds of play.

Early in the first period Delone secured possession of the ball on the Lancaster 30 through an exchange of punts and two plays later W. Noel swept around left end for 23 yards and a score. Rider's placement was wide.

Delone Scores

After stopping a drive by the Squires on the 15-yard line in the early minutes of the second period, Lancaster kicked out to its 40. A pass was good for a first down on the eight. Folmer hit center for yards and then Funk crashed over. Rider's extra point kick was again wide.

Midway in the third period G. Lawrence intercepted a pass on Lancaster's 40. Noel and Folmer pounced out a first down and then Folmer smashed his way through the line for the score. Again Rider's kick was wide.

The scrappy Lancaster team took to the air for its first touchdown. Krushinski bulled a 10-yard pass to Fitzpaldi who went 30 yards to the touchdown. Gregg's placement was wide.

Catches Own Pass

Lancaster tallied in an unusual play in the last 10 seconds. On attempting to pass from the Delone 40, Krushinski's toss was batted into the air by a Delone lineman. The ball was caught by Krushinski before it hit the ground and he swept wide around his own left end and raced 40 yards for a score. A pass for the point was grounded.

Each team collected nine first downs. Delone completed four of nine aerials while Lancaster completed on 7 of 15 with two being intercepted.

Hear Protests On Open Deer Season

Harrisburg, Nov. 18 (AP)—Petitions protesting a special three-day antlerless deer season in four northern tier counties today came before the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

Petitions from sportsmen's clubs have been lodged with the commission from Clinton, Tioga, Potter and Cameron counties against the December 13, 14 and 15 season.

Other counties included in the special season are Lycoming, Warren, Sullivan and McKean.

Although investigations of signatures on petitions have not been completed by the commission an unofficial check indicated the season would be cancelled, in at least one of the four protesting counties—Clinton.

Lions Unbeaten At Home In Five Years

State College, Pa., Nov. 18 (AP)—Pennsylvania State college today boasted a record of five seasons without a defeat on its home football field.

Colgate held the Nittany Lions to a scoreless tie this year, but otherwise their home record shows 19 victories in 20 starts since 1938.

Over this span, Bucknell has bowed five times, West Virginia three times, Syracuse, Pittsburgh and Lehigh twice each, and Maryland, South Carolina, New York university, Temple and Colgate once each.

The last team to tame the Lions in their lair was Lafayette, which turned the trick by a 7 to 0 score on November 5, 1938.

New York (AP)—Their faces betraying worried looks, two housewives bustled into Queens County court to ask that their butcher be excused from jury duty for Thanksgiving week. "He's a busy and important man in the neighborhood," they explained.

The judge smiled, said the man would have to appear, then added: "We'll have him back in his store in plenty of time to sell Thanksgiving turkeys."

Practically all of the anthracite coal deposits in the U. S. lie in Pennsylvania.

SEAHAWK-IRISH GAME TO DRAW HUGE THROG

By BUCKY O'CONNOR
Chicago, Nov. 18 (AP)—Fortunately for Frank Leahy and Lt. Don Faurot the social dictum that it's not polite to point doesn't hold true in football circles.

So the coaches of Notre Dame and the Iowa Pre-Flight Seahawks, the nation's top ranking teams, are hard at it this week pointing their respective unbeaten and untied elevens for Saturday's showdown engagement.

The result should establish one or the other definitely as the country's greatest football team—college or service. A crowd of 50,000 is expected to watch this unofficial championship battle at Notre Dame stadium.

Spotless Records

Both teams have spotless records of eight consecutive victories. The Irish string, however, is far more impressive. It includes decisive triumphs over such top ranking teams as Georgia Tech, Michigan, Navy, Army, and Northwestern while the Seahawk opposition has been of second rate variety.

Notre Dame, practically unanimous choice as the nation's No. 1 team, has rung up 312 points while holding its formidable foes to 37. Only one team—Georgia Tech—has scored as much as 13 points against the sturdy Irish line. Michigan, with Bill Daley playing, managed to register 12. Navy and Northwestern got six apiece and the other four, including Army, had a grand total of zero.

The Seahawks, standing in No. 2 position in the latest Associated Press national poll, have trounced Illinois, Ohio State, Iowa State, Iowa, Missouri, Ft. Riley, Marquette and Camp Grant. Not a first rater in the lot.

Iowa Blanked

In rolling over such opposition the Pre-Flights have scored 235 points against the enemy's 62. Only victory-starved Iowa was shut out. Five teams have scored 13 or more points each against Faurot's ex-collegiate and professional stars.

Faurot has turned on the tears this week, bemoaning an injury which is expected to keep Frank Maznicki, his star halfback, out of the game. Notwithstanding his public pessimism, however, the Seahawk coach is priming his boys for an upset to reverse the 28 to 0 defeat handed them last year by the Irish. Leahy, of course, is pointing in the opposite direction.

PENN STATE IS PICKED TO WIN

Pittsburgh, Penna. (AP) — Saturday's Pitt-Penn State clash at the stadium may turn out to be the best of the season here.

The youngsters under Coach Clark Shaughnessy, fuming from their poor showing against Ohio State and rested by a week's layoff are reportedly on the keen edge.

The fact that the Nittany Lions have been installed as favorites and given an edge of seven points by the "experts" has not hurt the Panthers, who are worrying more about the help their former star fullback, Bill Abramitis, now a V-12 student at State, can give the visitors.

Shaughnessy named Francis Mattioli, senior guard of Brackenridge, act winding captain for the game, which winds up the Pitt season. A victory would give Shaughnessy a 50-50 split for his first year at the helm.

The Panther coach hinted he would shake-up his lineup. One definite switch will send Walter Jones to right halfback ahead of the injured Lou Chelko and the fleet but light Tommy Kalmanir.

BROWNSVILLE IS WPIAL CHAMPION

Pittsburgh, Nov. 13 (AP) — A power-laden Brownsville high school football team paraded to its second WPIAL Class AA championship in four years last night by turning back Connellsville, 32 to 6.

The Vikings went through a 10-game schedule without defeat, piling up 333 points to their opponents' 87, to dethrone New Castle as champions.

Paul Johns, husky Brownsville negro football star, carried off league scoring honors by adding three touchdowns and two extra points against Connellsville, boosting his total for the season to 130. His closest rival, Phil Colella of Rochester, finished with 126 points.

With the double A title settled, eyes of western Pennsylvania fans turned to other divisional races to be decided in playoff games November 20.

Dormont, beating Brentwood 32 to 0 last night, will oppose Glassport in Class A, while Aspinwall and Pitcairn will vie for Class B honors.

5 State Colleges Plan Cage Cards

Pittsburgh, Nov. 12 (AP)—Only five western Pennsylvania colleges—Pitt, Carnegie Tech, Washington & Jefferson, Westminster and Geneva—are planning to put basketball teams on the courts this season.

Football teams were fielded by but two of these, Pitt and Tech. And, as in football, the schools sponsoring basketball will have to struggle along mainly with 17-year-olds and 4-P's.

Waynesburg and Allegheny colleges are undecided about the hardwood sport, but there's little indication they will play this season.

Duquesne, often a championship contender, heads the list of casualties. Others out of the picture include St. Vincent, Grove City, Thiel, California and Slippery Rock Teachers.

IOWA SEAHAWKS RANKED SECOND IN AP GRID POLL

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—Saturday's football game between Notre Dame and Iowa Pre-Flight involves the country's two top teams, say 90 sports writers in this week's Associated Press poll to determine the ranking team.

The Irish, unanimous choice in last week's voting, gained 87 first place and three second place ballots in the present tabulation but easily held the top spot while the Seahawks climbed from fifth to second on the strength of their 28 to 13 victory over the Camp Grant soldiers.

Last Saturday's results, which brought out a full crop of wartime oddities also gave the erstwhile select ten a thorough shakeup.

Purdue Drops

Idle Purdue dropped to third from second in making way for the Seahawks. Michigan retained fourth while Navy, despite its 61 to 0 massacre of Columbia, slid from third to fifth.

Army and Duke, sixth and seventh a week ago, exchanged berths and Northwestern, eighth in the previous compilation and a 25 to 6 victim of Notre Dame last Saturday, hung on to ninth.

March Field and Texas moved into the select groups, replacing Southern California and Penn. The Fliers are ranked eighth with the Longhorns tenth.

Southern California, unscored on until a fortnight ago but now a two-time loser, bounced from ninth to 27th following its setback by March Field, 35 to 0. Penn, spilled by North Carolina, stopped at 19th after having been tenth just seven days before.

Midwest In Front

The new arrangement makes a virtual midwest monopoly of the top half of the tabulation, fifth place Navy being the first team not from that area to receive recognition. The top four and Northwestern give the cornland half of the honored spots.

The two service clubs bring the east its only representation, Duke carries the Dixie banner with Texas and March Field the delegates from the southwest and far west respectively.

One of the three first place votes which did not go to Notre Dame was assigned Duke university. The remaining two went to Colorado college, reportedly interested in a Cotton bowl bid. The Colorado team got only two other points—a pair of tenth place votes—and finished in 22nd place.

The leading teams, counting 10 points for each first place vote, nine for second, etc., (first place votes in parenthesis):

Leading Ten	Points
Notre Dame (87)	897
Iowa Pre-Flight	631
Purdue	585
Michigan	542
Navy	508
Duke (1)	372
Army	321
March Field	143
Northwestern	121
Texas	112

Second Ten

Washington 97, Texas A & M 74, College of Pacific 71, Del Monte Pre-Flight 65, Georgia Tech 54, Tulsa 44, San Diego Naval Training Station 33, Bainbridge, Md., Naval Training Station 33, Pennsylvania 31, Dartmouth 29.

Also Rans

Southwest Louisiana Institute 24, Colorado college (2) 22, North Carolina 19, Arkansas A & M 16, Randolph Field 16, Great Lakes 13, Southern California 10, Southwestern of Texas 3, Colorado university 2.

Bender Will Aid Athletic Coaches

Philadelphina, Nov. 12 (AP)—Chief Bender, one of the great pitchers of the old Philadelphia Athletics, is coming back to work for Connie Mack, presumably as a coach for young pitchers.

Mack would not say what Bender's job would be in announcing that he had hired him yesterday. Neither would he comment on rumor that Earl Brucker, catcher-coach, would leave. He did say that Lena Blackburn will return as a coach and added, "He has a job for life."

ZIVIC BEATEN BY LAMOTTA; WANTS RETURN

By SID FEDER
New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Fritzie Zivic is a fellow who believes you're just as young as you feel. And Fritzie feels pretty frisky this morning.

He feels so frisky, in fact, that he stood right up in meeting to have a laugh at all those "smarties" who've been reciting his obituaries here lately and to announce that unless Uncle Sam has other ideas, he'll fight for at least one more year before retiring.

What's more, the first guy the veteran of 13 years and 177 fights wants to fight is Jake Lamotta, the Bronx brawler, who took a split ten-round decision in Madison Square Garden last night in the "rubber" match of their series.

May Meet Dec. 17

Zivic yelled for this return so loudly that Promoter Mike Jacobs went into an immediate huddle with himself over a fourth bout between the two in the Garden December 17.

From the cheers Zivic received from the crowd of 11,300 when it was over, you got the idea that Gus Pan is ready to put it on the line to keep right on watching the Pittsburgh war-horse strut his stuff. Although Young Jake won the fight, Mr. Platnose won the crowd by putting up a whale of a war in spite of the 11½ pound weight edge Lamotta was sporting and Jake's younger legs which did the heavy work down the stretch.

At 149½ pounds last night, Fritzie was as good as he can be in ring. In the first five rounds, he gave Jake a post-graduate course in the gentle art of mashing noses—with all the trimmings. After that, Jake caught on and came along to win by a nose. But it was only a photo finish—and Fritzie feels he's entitled to a retake.

CLARK REGAINS LOOP LEAD IN BALL CARRYING

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Chicago, Ill. (AP) — While Sid Luckman of the Chicago Bears set aerial records against New York, his teammate, Harry Clark, won't let Giants as a convenient stepping stone to regain the ball-carrying leadership of the National Football league this week.

Clark traveled 15 times with the ball to turn through the Easterners' defense for 81 yards, bringing his total gain for eight games this season to 465. This production enabled the veteran Bear halfback from West Virginia to replace his rival, Tony Canadeo of the Green Bay Packers, in the No. 1 ball-lugging spot.

Canadeo, the former Gonzaga star who became top man in Green Bay's backfield this season with the departure of Cecil Labeil, fell into second place after being limited to 38 yards in eight attempts by the Chicago Cardinals Sunday. His total gain in eight games is 424. Canadeo's running average per play, however, is better than Clark's—5.3 to 4.6.

Magnani Third

Dante Magnani, another Bear, is third in rushing with 277 yards, but he has one of the best averages in the league, 6.8, and has made the longest single gain, 79 yards.

Luckman's feat of throwing seven touchdowns and officially gaining 423 yards on passes against the Giants—both new records—kept him entrenched in the aerial lead with a total of 91 completions in 158 attempts for 1,808 yards and 23 touchdowns.

Although he has been sworn into the Merchant Marine, Luckman probably will be able to play out the season, including the championship playoff December 19, before being called up.

He has two more league games, against the Washington Redskins Sunday and the Cardinals a week hence, in which to bid for two all-time records. Two more touchdowns passes will eclipse Isbell's mark of 24 last year, and 214 additional yards gained will top Isbell's 2,021, also made in 1942.

May Surpass Isbell

Sammy Baugh of Washington also has a fine chance to better Isbell's standards as well as surpass Luckman before the season ends. He has four games to go and already has hit on 85 of 154 passes for 1,138 yards and 19 touchdowns.

Baugh's foot is becoming as famed as his arm. The 1942 punting king took over the lead this week after getting off 10 punts against Detroit for an average of 51.9 yards, including an 81-yard effort, the season's longest. This brought his average for 34 kicks for the season to 47.8.

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—There was no change last week in the list of the nation's unbeaten and untied football teams that have won three or more games. Notre Dame and the Iowa Seahawks, who clash this week, continue to top the select group of 13 elevens.

Girl Coach Liked First Grid Season

Salina, Penna. (AP) — Pauline Rugh, former Penn State coed and the first woman coach of a western Pennsylvania high school football team, enjoyed her gridiron work at the Bell Township school even if her boys lost all eight of their games.

In an interview she explained she understood few coaches would consider such a season a successful one, but added "winning isn't everything."

"I got a lot out of the job and I am pretty sure the boys did," she added. "They took everything in good spirit and never once forgot I was a girl."

Miss Rugh's biggest thrill of course came in the second game of the season with Ligonier, when her team led 7 to 0 at half-time. They had dropped their opening contest, 47 to 0. But Ligonier pushed across two touchdowns in the last half to win, 12 to 7.

ARENDTSTVILLE HAS LISTED 12 CAGE CONTESTS

The Arendtville Vocational high school basketball team is now in training under the direction of H. Vernon Blough, new athletic director, and will open a 12-game schedule at Gettysburg on December 17. Several other games with neighboring high schools are pending.

The schedule also includes games with Lemoyne at Lemoyne, December 21; Alumni at Arendtville, December 23; New Oxford at Arendtville, January 4; Dover at Arendtville, January 11; Littlestown at Littlestown, January 14; New Oxford at New Oxford, January 18; Delone at Arendtville, January 21; Dover at Dover, January 25; Biglerville at Arendtville, January 28; Littlestown at Arendtville, February 8; Delone at McSherrystown, February 18; Dover at Dover, February 19, and Biglerville at Biglerville, February 25.

Arendtville high school's junior varsity schedule includes games with Gettysburg at Gettysburg, December 17; Delone at Arendtville, January 21; Dover at Dover, January 25, and Delone at McSherrystown, February 18.

William S. Whiteley, principal, will have charge of the varsity girls' basketball team this season as they open an eight-game schedule at Lemoyne on December 21. Other scheduled games include: Alumni at Arendtville, December 23; New Oxford at Arendtville, January 4; Dover at Arendtville, January 11; Littlestown, January 14; New Oxford at New Oxford, January 18; Biglerville at Arendtville, January 28; Littlestown at Arendtville, February 8; Dover at Dover, February 19, and Biglerville at Biglerville, February 25.

Reesman, Shaner and Cromwell played good defensive ball, while Whittinghill stood out in the backfield aided by Moyer, who made some nice gains and passed well. Gettysburg showed much improved blocking but were weak on pass defense.

THE GOLFING PARSON DEPARTS

Now home the golfing parson goes
To read his Holy Book,
Once more afar from golfing woes
He'll bid us heavenwards look.

"Look up! Look up!" he now may preach.

His people to exalt,
But what for life is good to teach
Is golf's most grievous fault.

"Lift up! Lift up!" the winter long

May rouse all hearts within,
But golfers know that way is wrong,
Who tries it cannot win.

Once more, while winds of winter sweep,

"Look up!" he'll bid us all
Who, golfing, tried his best to keep His eye upon the ball.

CRIME AT NAPLES

When they're sitting at the table
And are summing up the facts
And are choosing wholly brutal from War's necessary acts,
May those time bombs be remembered
When the Nazis took to flight.

Which they left behind at Naples to die

When they're settling things with Hitler, and the others of his gang,

'And deciding of his leaders who shall live and who shall hang,
Then I hope they'll get those fellows who so madly worshipped might.

They could plant those bombs at Naples to do slaughter just for spite.

There are crimes men do in warfare to forgive and to forget.

All is fair in war, they tell us who are on the field, and yet
When the peace is being fashioned and the terms they meet to write,

May they still remember Naples and those time bombs set for spite.

FELINE HUNTER

Canton, Pa. (AP) — When Dana Smith goes hunting for rabbits he takes along his cat.

Smith claims the feline is as good as a dog in retrieving rabbits. It might be the "bird" in him, the owner explains.

COULD IT BE POSSIBLE?

Harrisburg, Pa. (AP) — City councilmen stared and then asked Frank P. Cirillo if they had heard him all right.

Cirillo had just finished protesting a tax cut resulting from a $200 reduction in the assessed valuation of his property.

ILL-WIND DEPT.

Los Angeles (AP) — J. A. Halcomb, service station manager, has figured out what the tune is good for.

NO FOOLING.

Sumnerfield, Kansas (AP) — Pupils of the Sumnerfield school nonchalantly filed out in their routine monthly fire drill.

Outside, they took one look, and called firemen—the roof really was ablaze.

WHITE CHRISTMAS

Conshohocken, Pa. (AP) — Smokes? Books? Socks? No, Army Private Thomas Monacella, 19, wants his family to send him a washboard.

Write Monacella after a session with G. I. Duds at Tacoma, Washington: "I can't get 'em clean with bare hands."

THREE IN ONE

Salt Lake City (AP) — A 13-year-old boy tearfully admitted he killed a zoo's deer with his bow and arrow—and promised to do everything possible to make up the loss.

Hearing of young Robin Hood's plight, soldiers at Camp W. G. Williams offered a pair of fawns and students at a nearby school gave a deer they had captured.

CARCASS ONLY

Seattle (AP) — Because the vehicles are stored in various scattered garages, bidding at the annual county auction of abandoned automobiles is done without the bidders seeing them.

One bidder later saw that he had acquired and asked for his money back.

MENDING

Portland, Ore. (AP) — Lester Davis, Navy enlisted man home on sick leave, wandered into a sewing circle working for Russian war relief, Inc. Someone handed him a needle.

Now he's sewing regularly with the group—and gets "a kick out of it."

UNHAPPY EXCHANGE

Rockford, Ill. (AP) — When Mrs. Darius Conklin arrived here from Chicago she found a shotgun and shells in the black traveling bag she carried.

Her bag, which a hunter presumably took by mistake in a Chicago railroad depot, contained pajamas, a dress, pair of shoes, and a needle.

HOME FRONT HERO

New York (AP) — Max Polle, 74-year-old native Russian, makes no apologies for his needlework as he matches stitches with 65 women in an American Red Cross sewing shop here.

The only man in the shop, he joined the unit a year ago, declaring: "I'm a man, but I'll come and face a whole barrage of women if I can do something for the war."

SYMPATHETIC

Seattle (AP) — City Purchasing Agent Willard V. Pape asked the city council efficiency committee for an additional clerk to help him keep abreast of new federal regulations.

The committee was shown the seven volumes of new rulings—then it gave Pape two clerks.

ABUNDANCE

Raton, N. M. (AP) — Ernest and Lester Popejoy, hunting deer in the mountains, found each had only one shell.

QUIETLY FAMOUS

Spokane, Wash. (AP) — Golfer Shine McKenna's friends kept his secret well.

News that he scored a 199-yard hole-in-one in the middle of the summer didn't leak out until today.

When the ball hit the cup he didn't whoop with glee. He said: "Gosh, fellas, my wife doesn't know I'm playing golf today."

TRANSPORTATION AID

Denver, (AP) — The Maurice Howes are bringing up their son, John, papoose-fashion.

Naturally, says the father, an anthropology student, "the cradleboard makes the baby more observant than if he lay on his back staring at the ceiling."

And, says Mrs. Howes, "just think what it does for the mother's posture and the figure."

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Just a few lines to express my sincere thanks for the Service Men's Edition of The Times. I am still stationed here at Great Lakes where I am going to Torpedomen's school.

I really did enjoy my leave after "boots," but I was glad to come back to the Navy, because it sure is a swell place for a guy to be.

In closing I again express my appreciation for your generous gift of The Gettysburg Times.

S 2-C HOWARD W. SHEFFER,
Sect. T 11-3, Bar. 502 U.P., U. S. N. T. S., Great Lakes, Ill.

Dear Sir:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for sending me the Service Edition of The Gettysburg Times.

I look forward to the day when The Times arrives here. It means a lot to the service men to receive news from home.

There is no one here from Gettysburg. At least, I haven't met any as yet. This is a very large camp.

This state is much different from good old Pennsylvania. I'll take Gettysburg, Pa., any old day, to this state.

I am about half-way through my basic training. I spend my spare time writing letters.

Thanking you again for sending me The Times, which I enjoy reading very much.

I remain,
Sincerely yours,
PVT. CHARLES V. ABELL,
Co. B, 4th Trn. Bn.,
1st Platoon,
Camp Wheeler, Ga.

Dear Sir:

Just a few lines to thank you for the many copies of the Times I have received since being over here. I really do enjoy reading them very much.

This letter leaves me well and happy as can be under the circumstances, and hope this will find all the readers of the Times well and enjoying all the abundance that life has to give.

I have now arrived in Italy and since being here have seen many horrors that war leaves and produces. The people are very friendly and differ from those we met before in the fact that they will exchange something with you for what they want and they like the American soldiers very much because they think he is a walking store. One is reminded very much of the states because the weather is very much the same, but is ideal for this time of year. I will be closing now and will write more in the near future.

Thanks again for the copies I have received and in closing may I say good luck and God bless all.

Yours sincerely,
PFC. JOHN H. MYERS
and
SGT. CHARLES TIMBERS.

CPL. RAYMOND W. SMITH

Dear Sir:

I have been receiving the Times since being called to the service of our country, one year ago. I want to take time to thank you for it today. When I receive the weekly edition, even though it is a little late, I just sit right down to read it.

I'll send my new address H. S. Co. 1881 Eng. Avn. Bn., APO 929, San Francisco, California.

I am serving in the Southwest Pacific area. Wish I could say where. The weather is rather warm. But we are getting used to it—getting along O. K. I like it here, it's lots of new experiences. But I'll take the States—good old Pennsylvania.

Thanks for the paper.
CPL. RAYMOND W. SMITH

Dear Sir:

Just a few lines to express my sincere appreciation for sending me the "Gettysburg Times." I meant to take this month ago, but just never seemed to get around to doing it. Although, if you will forgive me for my negligence, I would like to thank you now for your service.

I will try and describe what I have been doing since I entered the service.

First of all we received our basic training in southern California at Camp Haan, which was a pretty nice camp. We were there about three months and then went to Camp Irwin which is a sister camp to Haan. It's located about thirty miles from Death Valley and we were stationed there during mid-summer so you know it was very warm. We were there 16 weeks and then came back to Haan. From there we received furloughs and I must say Pennsylvania is still the best in the Union.

After furloughs we came to Oregon for six weeks on maneuvers. While we were in Oregon we were located in the vicinity of Bend. From there we came to Fort Lewis.

Division, APO 412, Camp Chaffee, Arkansas.

A-S George C. Boehner now receives his mail Room 36-A, 560 James street, F. and M. college, V-12, Lancaster.

Ensign Donald A. Ullrich is now at the NTS (D), 23094, Ft. Schuyler, New York, 61, N. Y.

Pvt. Samuel A. Harnish has been transferred to Troop B, 23rd Cav. Rcn. Squadron (Mech.), APO 412, Camp Chaffee, Arkansas.

A-C Harold Kinsey now receives his mail 4-C, BAAP (Basic), Bainbridge, Georgia.

Pvt. Glenn F. Weikert has been transferred from Fort Lewis, Washington, to Co. A, 511th M.P. Bn., Camp Adair, Oregon.

where I'm stationed now. We only have been here about two weeks and this looks like a very nice camp. I'm in communications and it is very interesting work. We work with radios, telephones, and switchboards, so we're kept pretty busy.

Well, I think that covers the high points in my Army career so far, so I'll close for now, thanking you again for the "Times" and hoping everyone in the community is in the best of health. I remain,
Sincerely yours,
PFC. GERVUS CURENS,
33544893, Btry. A,
788th AAA (AW) Bn.,
Fort Lewis, Washington.

Dear Sir:

In the 16th of August edition of the Gettysburg Times, which I received today, an interesting article caught my eye. Inclosed is the article which I would like to have published again with this letter.

I don't know Pvt. Widder, but he has my deepest sympathy. After being in the service for six months he should have a furlough. What I wanted to say is a little about, not only myself, but hundreds of men who feel as I do.

In my case, our unit was sent from my home state, which is Pennsylvania, to the West Coast. That was in the first part of July, 1942. After a short time there, we were sent to Australia. At the present time we are somewhere in the Southwest Pacific area.

Approximately one-third of this unit hadn't seen a white woman for ten months. They didn't have any Stagedoor Canteens to visit, or a USO where there is a war going on.

Now a word about the six hour pass that was given Pvt. Widder. I haven't had a six hour pass for 17 months. On the 29th of October, 1942, I had completed a three-year hitch. There is one unit that I know of mear us, that was sent here from (deleted by Censor). They had just served three years at that location. And I feel safe in saying that any one of us would trade places with Pvt. Widder, "without a furlough." But there has been enough said for this time. Thanking you in advance for publishing this, I remain,

Dear Sir:

I am writing for the purpose of informing you of my change of address and also to express my gratitude and appreciation for your paper. I was on maneuvers for two months, and I really appreciated your paper in that period. I especially enjoy the sport section and "With Our Service Men." I am a long way from home and I think that alone makes news from home interesting.

The conditions at Camp Adair are much nicer than at my previous camp, Ft. Lewis. This camp is fairly large. It is about 82 miles south of Portland. The main dislike I have found here is the weather. It rains all the time. Oregon is a beautiful state. On maneuvers we were in the desert. It was very dry up until the last week when it rained just about every day.

I again extend my gratitude for your paper and hope it continues to come. I am also hoping that everyone in our community is in the best of health and thank them for their cooperation.

Yours truly,
PVT. EDWIN C. WENTZ,

"With the approval of the National Budget committee, such an increase would be made from the National War Fund contingency fund, amounting to over 10 per cent of the entire goal. This reserve underlies the War Fund's correlation with the War. It insures promptness of action and maximum

Brady Sefton Retires; Barber Here For 60 Years

Brady Sefton, Baltimore street, dean of Adams county barbers, has retired after 60 years as a barber in Gettysburg.

Mr. Sefton decided to retire last week, because of his health, he told the Gettysburg Times Wednesday. He quit working Saturday and completed the sale of his holdings in his barber shop on center square Tuesday afternoon, selling out to Joseph Hoffman, who has worked as a barber with him for the last 24 years.

The 79-year-old barber was one of four brothers who were barbers here half a century ago. He started with his brother, Charles, eldest of the four, who had bought the John Tipton barber shop, located where Mitchell's restaurant is now on center square, 60 years ago. Charles and Brady Sefton then moved to where the Citizen's Trust building is now located on Baltimore street and Charles quit to start in the dry business while Brady, and another brother, Harry, moved their barber shop to where the Varsity barber shop is now located on Baltimore street. Another brother, Edward, started barbering with them.

Recalling the beginning of his career in the barbering trade, Mr. Sefton is of the opinion that the business is better now than it was a half century ago. Then "people did not get their hair cut and were not shaved as often" and the prices were extremely low. A shave was a dime, a haircut 25 cents. At one time the barbers here sold tickets giving a customer 13 shaves for $1.

Several Generations
When he began in the trade there were no clippers, with all work done with scissors and comb. Later came manual clippers and then electrically operated clippers.

One of the big jobs of the barber in the earlier days was curling mustaches when all the men wore mustaches and most lavished attention on the hairside adornment.

Looking back over the years at the thousands of haircuts and shaves given customers, Mr. Sefton said he would like to thank personally all of the hundreds of customers who have patronized his shop. Most of the early customers are now dead, but their place was taken by hundreds of others, including the children of many of the early clients.

Former County Treasurer
In 1916 Mr. Sefton was elected county treasurer for a four-year term.

The two men who served as barbers with Mr. Sefton the longest will continue with the shop on the square, Joseph Hoffman was there for 24 years and Charles Utz has been there for 15 years.

While retired from the trade, Mr. Sefton is planning to continue from time to time, when he feels in good health, to drop in and see how things are going in the barbering business. And it is entirely possible, he says, that he may give a few haircuts to old customers from time to time just to keep his hand in.

HOLSTEIN BULL BRINGS $26,000

Adams county herd owners have produced some excellent bulls, but an Associated Press report from Waukesha, Wis., Wednesday gives the county a new mark to shoot at.

The yearling bull, Carnation Madcap Supreme, was sold to the Curtis Candy company for its farm at Libertyville, Ill. The $26,000 price was said by dairymen to have been one of the largest recorded in the last several years.

Here's a story about Immanuel J. Klette, a graduate of Gettysburg College in 1939, who is now piloting a Flying Fortress against the Nazis. It appeared in the October 24th issue of "YANK, The Army Weekly" and was written by Sergeant Jack Horner. It was forwarded to The Gettysburg Times by Corporal Kenneth M. Tawney, of Gettysburg, now serving in the Armed Forces in England.

Klette was photo editor of the 1939 "Spectrum," business manager of the 1939 "G-Book," member of the Student Tribunal, Camera club, debating team, assistant manager of the basketball team for two years and manager for two years and a member of the Athletic Council.

Here is the story:

THE sky was empty. From horizon to horizon it stretched, clear, blue and vacant. Yet the two hundred men, standing on the hard-packed surface of the landing field in England, stared into the far reaches of the air. Somewhere out there a Flying Fortress was coming home. Or should be coming home.

The rest of the squadron was in. One by one they had circled the field and made their landings. The crews had climbed out of their ships and had been mobbed by their ground crews. This was the way it always had been when the Fightin' Bitin' squadron came back.

Spectators Are Glim

Gloom descended on the spectators. Planes had not come back before, but this was something different. The one that had not returned this time was the Connecticut Yankee, piloted by Lieutenant Immanuel J. Klette. The failure of any ship to return would have sent the men back to their Nissen huts in a low state of mind, but it just couldn't happen to Klette. He'd done things with a Fort that had never been done before. He was one of the hottest pilots ever to hit the base. He had practically established a record by completing 20 missions in four months. He applied for permission to keep on with combat flying after he completed his tour of duty. And this was his last mission. Should have been his last. Perhaps had been his last mission.

What makes a bomber pilot?
No one can really say. It is a combination of many things, of races and virtues, of background and environment, of desire and determination. In the case of Immanuel Klette, perhaps being normal made a bomber pilot.

Klette In Trouble

Not a man left the field. Flight control officers looked anxiously out of the windows of the control tower and scanned the horizon. A colonel paced up and down the balcony outside the tower, his eyes intent on the ground. Pilots who had come back stood by their ships, staring in the direction from which they had come. Nobody had heard from Klette. Nobody knew where he was. He was somewhere up in the sky or somewhere down on the ground. Wherever he was, he was in trouble. Most of them had, at one time or another, been through the same thing themselves.

A staff sergeant came up to one of the groups. "Anybody heard from Klette?" he asked.

Nobody had.

Somewhere around a quarter of a century ago a young man by the name of Karl Klette came to America from Germany. With him he brought a deep love of God and a deep hatred for Prussian autocracy. He went to the Middle West, took his theological training there, became a Lutheran minister and married. On his first-born son he bestowed the name of Immanuel. Named him for the philosopher, Immanuel Kant.

Here She Comes

A great sudden shout went up from the men on the field. Off in the distance, seeming to limp over the trees, was a plane. But it was coming in as no Fort had ever come in before. It was flying at a 45-degree angle, with its left wing pointing obliquely toward the ground.

"It's Klette," someone yelled. "Klette coming in backwards."

From the day that young Immanuel began to understand the meaning of words he was taught to despise all that his father despised in the German system—the rigidity, the hardness, the coldness. And he was taught to understand the significance of the freedom his father had found in America. He was young when he learned that to have freedom you must fight for it.

Brused By Flak

The Connecticut Yankee at that moment wasn't the worst junkpile ever brought home by a Fightin' Bitin' man, but it was bad enough.

Engines number 3 and 4 had received direct hits by flak, and flak had also hit the ship underneath, on the belly, and had gone through the ball turret, slightly wounding the ball turret gunner in the hand, then penetrated the nose of the ship. There was a hole a foot square where a shell had finally emerged after coming up through the open bomb bay doors after the bombs had been dropped. The right horizontal stabilizer had been hit. The lift rafts had been smashed. The radio had been knocked out. The compass was out.

Klette's number 4 engine had been knocked out just before he started her on the bomb run, and the bombs had gotten away on three engines. Number 3 engine died a minute or so after the Connecticut Yankee left the target. From then on it was touch and go. The ship was knocked out of formation. Klette had to have his tail gunner keep him informed of the other groups of Forts coming on, and he managed to stay under them, thus getting temporary cover. All the rest of the gunners were ordered into the radio room, in order to get as much weight forward as possible.

Dumps Ammunition

Half-way across the Channel he ordered all the ammunition thrown out. He tried to send distress signals. Couldn't. He tried for QDM. No luck. As he neared the coast of Britain he had to rely entirely on the navigator's land reckoning.

Back in the ship, the waist gunner was T/Sgt. Stephen H. Holleman. He was a pal of Klette's. It was his last mission, too, and he had asked permission to go on the Connecticut Yankee. Klette spoke to him over the intercom. "Scared, Steve?"

"No," said Holleman.

"I'm going to bring you in, Steve," Klette said.

And he did. He transferred gas from his right wing to his left, just managed to slip past London's balloon barrage, and came over the trees where the two hundred men assembled on the ground saw him.

The crippled plane came sliding over the field, flying at 2,500 feet. Klette's number 3 and 4 engines were out, dead and gone, and the propellers feathered. Numbers 1 and 2 were holding the ship up—nothing else.

Long before most Americans realized the dangers of that dark hydra that had reared up over Europe and blotted out the sun—National Socialism, as preached by one Adolf Hitler—Dr. Karl Klette was thumping his pupil and warning his congregations. The words of the father burned into the mind of the son. And in the case of Immanuel Klette, the answer to the question of what makes a good pilot can perhaps be found in a beginning such as this.

Engine In Flames

The Connecticut Yankee circled to the right. The ship was unable to make a left turn because of the damaged engines. Klette started to point in toward the field. As he did a burst of flame came from his number 1 engine.

On the control tower balcony the colonel was doing as much flying as Klette. "Bail out, boy," he yelled.

It was a solid foundation for a life, that which Dr. Klette had taught his son. And then he proceeded to see that his son got a better than average education. Immanuel took his undergraduate collegiate work at Gettysburg College. In 1939, his senior year, he was elected president of the student body. Also president of his class. Also president of his fraternity, Tau Kappa Epsilon. After Gettysburg, he went on to Columbia to take graduate work in finance and banking, working toward a Master's degree. The Army found him there.

No parachutes appeared from the stricken ship. She still lumbered along on her one engine, dipping a little lower, losing a little more altitude.

Immanuel Klette was among the first draftees of 1941. He was sent to Fort Bragg, where he trained with the Fightin' Ninth Division. Infantry.

CONTROL TOWER TO SHIP: Do you know your engine's on fire?

Immanuel Klette applied for transfer to the Air Force as a cadet, and within five days he was accepted. He had been in the Fightin' Ninth a year to a day.

Crash Landing

PILOT TO CONTROL TOWER (laconically): Yeah. I know all about it. Clear the field for a crash landing.

Immanuel Klette had always wanted to fly a bomber. They gave him one.

The colonel kept flying the ship for Klette. "Easy, boy," he muttered. "Take it easy."

His body moved with the movement of the plane.

Immanuel Klette carried a Latin motto around with him. NAM ET IPSA SCIENTIA POTESTAT EST. Knowledge is power. He learned to know Forts inside out.

He sidestepped the Fort and put

12 Below Freezing Reported Wednesday

By 1 o'clock Wednesday the temperature had crept to 35 degrees.

Air raid wardens bundled themselves into their warmest clothes for the test Wednesday morning, but still were cold after their 17-minute turn of duty.

Snow fell in Gettysburg for a few minutes after 11:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

CRASHES AUTO

An army truck crashed into a parked car about five miles east of here shortly after 8 o'clock Saturday morning, doing $100 damage to the car which was owned by John B. Shiplett, of near Linville, Virginia R. 2. The army truck was driven by Pvt. William J. Weingartner. Pvt. Robert Deitrich, of the local state police investigated.

The Shiplett car had broken an axle earlier in the day and had been pulled off the road for repair.

Harmon Eugene Zinn, Hanover, has accepted a commission in the U. S. Naval Reserves as lieutenant junior grade, it was revealed Friday by York County Draft Board No. 4, Hanover. He will report for duty on Sunday. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Zinn, Gettysburg.

the fire out. He cut his remaining engine. Then he landed the Connecticut Yankee with no motors at all and with one flat tire.

The colonel mopped his face. "That was the most beautiful landing I ever made," he said.

And Immanuel Klette came to the ETO last March, to the Fightin' Bitin' Squadron.

The crew of the Connecticut Yankee came out of their ship. Klette had a shy grin on his face. He ran his fingers through his tow-colored hair. "I guess I bounced a couple of times," he said.

Klette doesn't like to walk home from crash landings. He has a lot to say on that subject.

ITEM: "If you know your plane, you save yourself a lot of grief."

"Half the Battle"

ITEM: "If you know exactly what your plane can and can't do, and if you've got a crew that has good air discipline and will do what you say quickly and without hesitation, you've won half the battle."

ITEM: "A bombardier I know lost his head one time when his ship was in a tight spot. He hit the silk before he got the word from the pilot. The plan got back all right. He ended up in a German prison camp. It was his 25th mission, too."

ITEM: "The Fightin' Bitin' is an Air Force all by itself. That's what pulls us back."

That last item is interesting. When Klette came to the ETO and landed with the Fightin' Bitin' he came into a nest of hot pilots. It had a record that its men argued was second to none. The Record, they called it, and it was what they lived by. And The Record was what Klette came to live by, too. When he brought the Connecticut Yankee in on no motors and a flat tire, he was living by The Record. It was a symbol of the fierce pride that the Fightin' Bitin' took in itself. It was the pride of men who were veteran bomber pilots, who had gone out on some of the toughest raids over Europe, knowing that, come hell or high water, they were going to get back. Until the raid on Kiel, the Fightin' Bitin' had completed 41 consecutive raids without the loss of a ship.

U. S. Seaman, Wounded At Salerno, Visits 'Field'

John W. Hanford, wounded merchant seaman from Scarsdale, New York, is interested in battlefields—both past and present.

The Scarsdale sailor, Wednesday, visited the Gettysburg battlefield and despite an injured foot walked about much of the field, visiting Bloody Angle, Culp's hill and other spots. He had always wanted to see Gettysburg, greatest battle of the Civil war. He was on leave from the merchant marine because of injuries received in a "Bloody Angle" in this war at Salerno, so he took the opportunity to visit the field here.

His ship put into the harbor at Salerno with a large number of other ships when General Mark W. Clark's armies stormed the beaches. Hanford says when anyone asks him "where is the Luftwaffe?" that his answer will always be that he doesn't know where the German air force may be, but a good facsimile of it was at Salerno.

Hit By Shrapnel

A German bomb went through the number four hatch on Hanford's ship. Hanford himself was thrown "what seemed like 35 feet" by the concussion, and a number of men were killed when the bomb exploded in the hatch. Few of the men killed were close to the bomb. Hanford says, most died when the steam pipes in the ship burst from the concussion of the bomb. A quantity of flour in the bottom of the hold prevented the bomb from blowing the bottom out of the ship, although the plates were strained and much water was shipped. Hanford, on the bridge at the time, suffered a number of cuts from shrapnel flying about during the bombing and shelling at the invasion port.

He then spent some time in various hospitals, finally recovering sufficiently to be sent home on leave. He expects to rejoin the merchant marine in the near future. Only remaining effects of the bombing are deafness—overcome by an artificial aid, and an injury to the foot which is very nearly healed.

Battle Picture In Papers

Hanford told a reporter for The Gettysburg Times that he went ashore in the Sicilian invasion with one of the landing barges but—"you can get a better idea of a battle by reading about it."

His ship came close to the shore—carrying the barges that were to transport the soldiers to a part of a beach. The men went ashore and later Hanford took advantage of an offer to go along with one of the

ARGUE COLLEGE CLAIM FOR TAX FREE PROPERTY

Gettysburg college's relation to the 55th College Training Detachment here, its financial arrangements with the civilian students and its housing facilities were brought before the county court Thursday morning in a hearing on the suit brought by the college against the county, borough and school board to prevent the taxing authorities from levying a tax on the former Aughinbaugh property.

The property was given to the college under provisions of the will of Mrs. Lillie Aughinbaugh in 1942.

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college, was the principal witness Thursday morning. He declared that the tuition charge of $350 a year for civilian students was about $100 less than the actual cost of their education. The U. S. Army is paying less than the cost to the civilian student per man stationed here, Dr. Hanson asserted.

Army Contract

The principal purpose of the college in entering into the contract to take care of the 55th College Training Detachment was "to serve our country," Dr. Hanson said. The college had offered its services in any manner in which the Army might see fit, the college president said. The Air Corps then "turned over to us the air cadets for instruction in mathematics, physics, geography, English, history, physical training and a number of other subjects," Dr. Hanson said.

The college provides the instruction, facilities, dormitories, equipment and other necessities for the air cadets and is reimbursed by the Army for certain of the expenditures, Dr. Hanson said.

Civilian students are charged less than actual cost, and the cost to the Army per air cadet is slightly less, Dr. Hanson said. The deficit at the college has to be met from a number of sources other than the income from tuition and the endowment fund, Dr. Hanson asserted.

"During the last three years more than twice the income from the endowment fund has been expended in scholarships alone," he stated.

Many of the scholarships were issued to Gettysburg and Adams county students, he said.

The dormitory problem at the college has been serious the last ten years, Dr. Hanson said. Average enrollment is 650 and there are not adequate dormitory facilities for that number, he added.

Before the arrival of the air cadets here the male college students lived in fraternity houses and private homes as well as in the dormitories. Old Dorn is capable of handling 121 students and McKnight Hall, 49. The remainder of the male students were in the fraternities and from 40 to 50 in private homes, the witness said.

The women students were divided between Huber hall, with 66 students; Stevens hall, 49; Myrtle Terrace, 14; Dickson hall, 12; and Aughinbaugh hall, 16. Dr. Hanson said. The college can provide dormitory facilities for 145 girls and has 190 women students this year. A few of the students live in their parents' home here, or commute from nearby towns. Each year the college must turn down a substantial number of "fine young women" because of lack of dormitory facilities, he said.

"To Meet Critical Need"

With the coming of the air cadets, the male students were moved from Old Dorn and McKnight hall and the girls were moved from Huber hall to provide room for the cadets. The fraternities were taken over by a special committee and were used to provide rooms for the women students and some of the male students. In May, 1942, the Aughinbaugh property was accepted at a meeting of the board of trustees of the college, "as a dormitory to meet the critical need for dormitories for young ladies of the college."

The students are charged $90 to $100 per year for lodging, Dr. Hanson said. That sum he pointed out merely covers the expenses of the operation of the dormitories. If there were any profit from Aughinbaugh hall it would accrue to the college and be used to defray other college expenses, he pointed out. Income from the fraternities does not go to the college, but to a special alumni committee and any profit will go to the fraternities when they resume their activities, Dr. Hanson said.

Dean and Larkin Testify

The college president asserted he could reject any of the Air Corps students if necessary. While he explained that right is not contained in the contract with the Air Corps "I have no fear that we hold that right." The program for the Air Corps students was planned entirely by the college in cooperation with Captain John R. Coshey, commandant of the college training unit, Doctor Hanson said.

Doctor Hanson asked permission of Judge W. C. Sheely, following completion of questioning Thursday morning, to "make a statement on the aims and purposes of the college." He was told it was not necessary because the court believed it had all the details necessary as a result of the hearing.

George R. Larkin, statistician for the alumni committee handling the use of fraternities as dormitories,

WAC Saved Life Of York Soldier

Pvt. Margaret H. Maloney, Rochester, New York, known among the WACs as "Peewee" because she is just four feet, 11 inches tall, received the soldier's medal for heroism Wednesday for rescuing a York soldier from a gasoline fire in the North African theater.

The 26-year-old WAC, believed to be the first woman to be awarded the coveted decoration, was credited with saving the life of Pvt. Kenneth M. Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Jacobs, York, when he fell into a pool of blazing gasoline Sept. 11.

His parents said last night that they had received a letter from their son two weeks ago in which he wrote that he was being treated for severe burns. He is still in a hospital in Oran.

Pvt. Maloney received the medal at a ceremony held just two days after she was released from a hospital where she was treated for burns, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Allied Headquarters in Algiers.

Kenneth Jacobs is a grandson of Isaac Miller, late cashier of the East Berlin National bank. His parents formerly resided in East Berlin.

Retirement Pay For Gas Co. Staff

Retirement income up to 60 per cent of final pay will be provided for employees of the Gettysburg Gas corporation according to a plan which has been recommended to stockholders by directors of Columbia Gas and Electric corporation, the parent company, it is announced by C. E. Bennett, president of the Pittsburgh group of the Columbia system, of which the local gas company is a part.

Approval by stockholders at a special meeting on Dec. 16, and a favorable opinion by the U. S. Treasury department that the plan will qualify for tax deduction under the existing tax law, will place the plan in effect as of Dec. 1, this year. It would apply to all companies in the Columbia system.

Study Programs Of Recreation Centers

A discussion on the proposed establishment of a recreation center in Gettysburg was held at a meeting of the Gettysburg Recreation committee Wednesday evening at Hotel Gettysburg. No definite action was taken but programs used by other cities were studied.

Members of the committee in attendance included Henry T. Bream, chairman, Lions club; Dr. R. S. Baber, Rotary club; Mrs. Henrietta Bloch, Soroptimist club; Mrs. A. B. Plank, Women's club; Mrs. A. R. Wentz, YWCA; Mrs. Frederick Tilberg, public schools; Arthur E. Hutchison, Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. William Quillian, First District Council of Christian Education.

PROMOTED TO CORPORAL

Eugene B. Eckert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Eckert, East Middle street, has been promoted to corporal. He is a member of the Hq. AAF Office Flying Safety, Winston Salem, North Carolina.

explained in detail the set-up by which the eight fraternities involved are operated. One hundred and forty-four students are being cared for in the fraternities of which 99 are women. Dean W. E. Tilberg was called to the stand to outline the distribution of students in the various fraternity houses, dormitories and private homes.

Decision Delayed

Doctor Hanson explained while on the stand that while male students are allowed to live in private homes approved by the college, the college does not allow the women students to live in other than college-provided dormitories where they are under the supervision of a house mother provided by the institution.

The court at the conclusion of the hearing decided to await study of the transcript before passing an opinion on the case.

A question by Eugene V. Bulleit, Esq., attorney for the town and county, brought from Doctor Hanson the answer that "Aughinbaugh hall is the only dormitory so far which is more than a block or so from the college proper." The building is about six blocks from the college, but Doctor Hanson said that the students come "across the back way" along the railroad tracks to the school.

Richard A. Brown, Esq., represented the college.

LAST CASE OF TERM IN COURT HERE THURSDAY

The November jury completed its work Wed. morning when it handed down a directed verdict in favor of Harvey P. and Ruth B. Jones, Merion, and Ernestine Plummer, Philadelphia, owners of the Elevation orchards farm, Hamiltonban township, ejecting George A. and Beulah M. Shinham, Hamiltonban township, from the Elevation orchards.

Equity Suit Ends

The verdict was directed after counsel for the plaintiff and defendant reported that a settlement had been reached when court opened Wed. Shinham has been manager of the farms since January 3, 1942, and was discharged as manager June 14, 1943, according to the statement of Harvey Jones. Shinham had continued to live in the manager's cottage at the farm and used part of the land surrounding the cottage, Jones stated.

A court order ending the equity proceedings brought against Shinham by the owners of the Elevation orchards was handed down at noon today.

The final decree decided that Harvey P. Jones is the absolute owner of all livestock, crops, fertilizers, spraying materials and other produce, products and machinery at the farm; that Shinham "is hereby restrained permanently" from managing the Elevation orchards or interfering in any way with Harvey Jones or his employees; and restraining Shinham from selling, damaging, destroying, removing or using any of the farm equipment or materials or livestock; stated that Shinham was properly discharged for cause as manager, and held that Shinham is the absolute owner of a pick-up truck, 20 rows of potatoes, 34 chickens, bantam chickens and a bull and hog, ownership of which was disputed by the participants in the suit.

Two Verdicts of Guilty

The Adams county court began Tuesday hearing civil cases after juries had returned verdicts of guilty Monday afternoon against the only two defendants in criminal cases to appear for trial in the current term.

Eugene Shaffer, New Oxford, was found guilty on charges of malicious mischief and arson after the jury, with George Bollinger, Hanover, as foreman, deliberated over an hour Monday afternoon. The jury returned with its verdict at 3:30 o'clock.

Witnesses for the state Monday morning said that Shaffer had gone to the home of H. J. Gouker, near New Oxford, about midnight, October 23, and had called for his wife, who was staying with her mother at the Gouker home. According to the prosecution's witness some condensed milk cans were thrown through windows after Mrs. Shaffer refused to answer her husband and "about a half hour later" a garage was set afire near the Gouker house.

The jury hearing the case included Mrs. Catherine Bair, McSherrystown; George Bollinger, Hanover; Mrs. Esther Brindle, Seven Stars; Cletus Culp, Biglerville R. D.; Clarence Fuss, New Oxford R. D.; Luther Hess, Littlestown R. D.; Walter Hoffman, Gettysburg; Ernest G. Miller, Orrtanna R. D.; Harry McGlaughlin, Fairfield; Guy Tanager, York Springs R. 2; Robert T. Thomas, Littlestown, and David Wisler, Abbottstown.

Lowell B. Field, Salem, Ohio, an executive at the Letterkenny Depot, who was indicted on a drunken driving charge, failed to appear before the court Monday and his bond was forfeited.

Try Accident Cases

Tuesday morning the first of three civil actions scheduled to come before the court was begun with Edward Swope, Mrs. Evelyn Swope Neely, Mrs. Hayberger, Mrs. Culp Bertha Culp and Frank Slonaker, all of Gettysburg, seeking damages from John Costello, Wilkes-Barre, as a result of an accident at York Springs, March 21, 1942.

The court also drew a jury for the action in ejectment brought by Harvey P. Jones, Ruth B. Jones and Ernestine Plummer, owners of the Elevation Orchard farms, against George A. and Beulah M. Shinham and children, tenants on the farm.

The civil suit in which Gettysburg college is seeking in an equity action to prevent Adams county, Gettysburg borough and the Gettysburg school board from taxing the Aughinbaugh property recently received by the college will not be heard by a jury. Deputy Prothonotary S. L. Allison said Tuesday The case, however, will be argued before the court.

The jury selected for the Shinham case includes Bruce Beltman, Gardeners; George Bollinger, Hanover; Russell Derr, Gettysburg R. D.; Luther Hess, Littlestown R. D.; Walter Hoffman, Gettysburg; Mrs. Elsie Kimple, Gettysburg R. 2; Archie Lawver, Idaville; N. E. Lippy, Littlestown R. D.; Cyrus Miller, Gettysburg R. D.; Mrs. Lucy Small, Hanover R. 4; Robert H. Thomas, Littlestown, and Harry Trimmer, Abbottstown.

The State Liquor Control board today suspended the license of Theodore F. Miller, Littlestown, for a 20-day period beginning December 2. That suspension was among a total of 15 announced Friday along with two revocations.

COUNTY AGENT ISSUES 1ST '44 SPRAY LETTER

County Agent M. T. Hartman mailed the first in the series of letters on peach spray for the 1944 season. The letter called attention of growers to sprays for prevention of peach leaf curl, reducing brown rot and controlling San Jose scale.

The spray is to be applied this fall or early next spring while the leaves are off the trees and buds are completely dormant. Application in the fall is recommended by Mr. Hartman where leaf curl or San Jose scale were present in 1943. Where brown rot is the problem, the application should be made in the spring, according to Mr. Hartman in consultation with G. L. Zundel, extension plant pathologist and J. O. Pepper, extension entomologist.

Scale Control

To prevent danger from lime spray injury, Hartman urges the growers to delay the application of lime sulphur until four weeks after all of the leaves have fallen.

To control the San Jose scale and leaf curl, the county agent recommends that 1.03 sp. gr. of lime sulphur, approximately five gallons of concentrate in 100 gallons of spray, be used. To control leaf curl alone, he recommends using 1.015 sp. gr. lime sulphur, also approximately five gallons of concentrate in 100 gallons of spray. Brown rot is also checked with five gallons of lime sulphur per 100 gallons of spray, Mr. Hartman said. While Bordeaux 4-4-100 is the most effective control, it should be used only where brown rot is a serious problem because of the need of copper for war industries.

Destructive Brown Rot

Besides the regular sprays, where lecanium, or terrapin, scale is a problem, an application of oil is to be used in the spring and the fungicides, if needed, should be applied in the fall, it was stated. Complete coverage of all buds and limbs is necessary for effective control.

Brown rot was the most destructive of the diseases during the last year, Mr. Hartman said, with leaf curl and San Jose scale not critical in most orchards. The leaf curl increased slightly during 1943 but was found in only a few orchards. Those orchards with leaf curl were urged to spray but it was pointed out that leaf curl is rarely destructive in an orchard where it was not present the previous year. Brown rot was destructive in 1943 and a spring spray is urged for orchards in which the rot was severe this year.

One precaution was given by Mr. Hartman, that the sprays must be used only when the temperature is above freezing.

COLLEGE ALUMNI MEET SATURDAY

Dr. M. E. Gladfelter, vice president of Temple university, Philadelphia, a graduate with the class of 1925, will be a speaker.

The dinner is open to alumni fraternity members, active members, pledges and fraternity members among the air cadets stationed at the college.

At 8 o'clock the inter-fraternity dance will be held in the college gymnasium.

Children Raise $10 For Junior R.C.

By working at their homes and on neighboring farms the 39 children in the Fountaindale school taught by Mrs. Laura Higgins raised $10 as a donation to the Junior Red Cross, it was announced today by Mrs. Margaret Beitler, county Junior Red Cross secretary.

The donation was the largest given so far from any of the one-room schools of the county, it was stated.

Lutherans Mark 25th Anniversary
